THE NEW YORK HERALD.

WHOLE NO. 9506. NEW YORK, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1862. PRICE TWO CENTS

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Operations of the Confiscation Act.

All Slaves in States in Rebellion January 1, 1863, to Be Free.

The President Renews the Offer to Pay for Slaves of Loyalists,

&c., &c., &c.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1862.

I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America, and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy thereof, do hereby proclaim and declare that hereafter, as heretofore, the war will be prosecuted for the object of practically restoring the constitutional relation between the United States and the people thereof in which States that relation is, or may be, suspended or disturbed; that it is my purpose, upon the next meeting of Congress, to again recommend the adoption of a practical measure tendering pecuniary aid to the free acceptance or rejection of all the slave States, so-called, the people whereof may not then be in rebellion against the United States, and which States may then have voluntarily adopted or thereafter may voluntarily adopt the immediate or gradual abolishment of slavery within their respective limits; and that the efforts to colonize persons of African descent, with their consent, upon the continent or elsewhere, with the previously obtained consent of the governments existing there, will be continued; that on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, all persons held as slaves within any State, or any designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then thenceforward and forever free, and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom; that the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the States and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof respectively shall then be in rebellion against the United States; and the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be in good faith represented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such State shall have participated, shall, in the absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such State and the people thereof have not been in rebellion against the United States.

That attention is hereby called to an act of Congress, entitled "An act to make an additional Article of War," approved March 13, 1862, and which act is in the words and figure following:—

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That hereafter the following shall be promulgated as an additional article of war for the government of the Army of the United States, and shall be obeyed and observed as such:—

ARTICLE.—All officers or persons in the military or naval service of the United States are prohibited from employing any of the forces under their respective commands for the purpose of returning fugitives from service or labor who may have escaped from any persons to whom such service or labor is claimed to be due, and any officer who shall be found guilty by a court martial of violating this article shall be dismissed from the service.

SECTION 2.—And be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Also to the ninth and tenth sections of an act entitled "An Act to suppress insurrection, to punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate property of rebels, and for other purposes," approved July 17, 1862, and which sections are in the words and figure following:—

SECTION 9.—And be it further enacted, That all slaves of persons who shall hereafter be engaged in rebellion against the government of the United States, or who shall in any way give aid or comfort thereto, escaping from such persons and taking refuge within the lines of the army, and all slaves captured from such persons, or deserted by them and coming under the control of the government of the United States, and all slaves of such persons found on (or being within) any place occupied by rebel forces and afterwards occupied by the forces of the United States, shall be deemed captures of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude, and not again held as slaves.

SECTION 10.—And be it further enacted, That no slave escaping into any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, from any of the States, shall be delivered up, or in any way impeded or hindered of his liberty, except for crime or some offence against the laws, unless the person claiming said fugitive shall first make oath that the person to whom the labor or service of such fugitive is alleged to be due is his lawful owner, and has not been in arms against the United States in the present rebellion, nor in any way given aid and comfort thereto; and no person engaged in the military or naval service of the United States shall, under any pretence whatever, assume to decide on the validity of the claim of any person to the service or labor of any other person, or surrender up any such person to the claimant, on pain of being dismissed from the service.

And I do hereby enjoin upon and order all persons engaged in the military and naval service of the United States to observe, obey and enforce within their respective spheres of service the act and sections above recited.

And the Executive will in due time recommend that all citizens of the United States who shall have remained loyal thereto throughout the rebellion shall (upon the restoration of the constitutional relation between the United States and their respective States and people, if the relation shall have been suspended or disturbed) be compensated for all losses by acts of the United States, including the loss of slaves.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Done at the City of Washington, this twenty-second day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-seventh.

By the President:

WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.

The Tenth New Hampshire Regiment En Route.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 22, 1862.

The Tenth New Hampshire regiment, Col. Donahoe, left Manchester to-day for Washington, via New York.

The Allotment System.

We are pleased to perceive that this system is working so well, and that the men of our new levies are so generally taking advantage of it. Either they belong to a superior class or the system is becoming better understood, for there is a remarkable difference in the amount allotted by them and that at first obtained by the commissioners from the Army of the Potomac. It is no unusual thing for a regiment to allot seven or eight thousand dollars, and one went almost to nine thousand dollars a month.

The thanks of the country are due to the President for the interest he has taken in this matter; and, now that Governor Morgan has promulgated the following order, there is every promise that the labors of the commissioners will be fully successful. We think it would greatly facilitate the efforts of those gentlemen—who, it must be remembered, give their services without remuneration—if they had an assimilative rank, which would entitle them to respect in the army, without command. This would avoid annoyances—as in passing sentries and the like, which occasionally cause delay and trouble—and would insure the respect to which their important office entitles them:—

GENERAL ORDERS—NO. 72.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,
ADJ. GENERAL'S OFFICE, ALBANY, Sept. 17, 1862.

The President of the United States having appointed Theodore Roosevelt, William E. Dodge, Jr., and Theodore B. Bronson Commissioners to procure from the soldiers of this State allotments of their pay, all officers in command of troops in this State are directed to afford them all necessary facilities for the performance of their duties.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief

THO. HILLHOUSE, Adjutant General.

Military Movements in New York and Vicinity.

THE JUDGE DALY GUARD.

Captain Duff, who is recruiting for the above organization, to be attached to the Second regiment, Corcoran's Irish Legion, is filling up his company rapidly. One hundred dollars cash over the other bounties will be paid to all who enlist in Captain Duff's company on application at the office of S. Dingee, No. 8 Pine street.

A STATEN ISLAND REGIMENT.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the Fifth Senatorial district will be held on Wednesday evening, at Mozart Gardens, Nos. 57 and 59 Columbia street, for the purpose of raising a company to be attached to Colonel Minthorne Tompkins' regiment of infantry, which is about being organized. Speeches will be made by Hon. Hiram Walbridge, Brigadier General Richard Busteed and others. The company is to be called the Tompkins Blues, in honor of the Colonel of the regiment, and to be commanded by our young friend Q. A. Riley and Lieutenant George W. Driver.

MICHIGAN SICK AND WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

The following circular has been issued to Michigan ladies at present resident in this city:—

TO MICHIGAN LADIES IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK AND ITS VICINITY:—

There are several hundred sick and wounded Michigan soldiers in the various hospitals in this city and its vicinity. They are hundreds of miles from home, but not from friends, may it ever be said. They have perilled their lives fighting the battles of their country—your battles. It is now in your power to render them some service in return, and to alleviate their sufferings in some measure. The government does all it can for them, but there are many comforts necessary to the sick which the government cannot furnish, and which money will not purchase. A visit from you would make glad their hearts and cheer them in their lonely hours. A few delicacies would be gratefully received by them and are very necessary. It is believed that many of you would gladly render efficient service if you knew where to offer it.

All who wish to aid in this humane and patriotic duty are earnestly invited to report to Darius Clark, Esq., 173 Broadway, who will systematize and direct their labors.

Presentation of a Gold Medal to General Corcoran.

We were yesterday shown a very beautiful and elegantly executed gold medal for presentation to Brigadier General Corcoran. The testimonial is from twenty-three of his fellow prisoners of the Sixty-ninth regiment, who were confined with the General in the prison at Richmond. The presentation was made last evening in the presence of a large assemblage of the General's friends at the City Assembly Rooms, No. 444 Broadway. The medal, which was executed by the well known house of Ball, Black & Co., is three and a half inches in diameter, is of gold, of twenty-two carats, and weighs three and a half ounces. On the obverse is a splendid engraving of a prison scene at Richmond, representing the farewell of the wounded prisoners on the departure of General Corcoran. The figure of the General is prominent. He is seen relieving the wants of a wounded fellow officer, while one prisoner is handing him a letter to take home, and others are lying around the prison. A rebel sentinel is seen listening at the door of the prison as he goes his rounds. On the reverse is a beautiful representation of the Union shield and arms, emblazoned with thirty-four stars, surmounted by the eagle, and supported on one side by the flag of the Sixty-ninth regiment, and on the other by the banner of the republic. The medal bears this inscription:—

Presented to
GENL. CORCORAN
BY THE
Released Prisoners of the 69th Reg't N. Y. S. M., 21st Sept., 1862.

The medal and engraving were designed by Daniel Draddy, private of Company A, Sixty-ninth regiment, who was also imprisoned with the General. The medal is enclosed in a fine morocco box, and the whole idea and execution reflect the highest credit on General Corcoran's fellow prisoners, the designer and the artist, and will serve as a valuable heirloom, to be regarded by his posterity with admiration and affection.

Departure of General McDowell.

Major General McDowell, who has been in this city for several days, stopping at the Brevoort House, left last evening for Washington.

News from Salt Lake—The Indian Atrocities.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 22, 1862.

Charles McBride, from Virginia City, arrived here yesterday, one of a party of fifteen bound for the States. He says:—

The party were attacked by the Snake Indians at the city of Pocas, on the Humboldt route, one hundred and fifty miles north. They fought the Indians for twenty miles, losing six killed and two wounded, and all of their outfit.

John Connor, John Sharpe, Benjamin White, James Shaw, Wm. Davis and Mr. Goodman were killed. John Foster and Samuel Kelly had their arms broken.

Reports of Indian depredations northward are coming in daily, and much trouble is expected to emigration.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1862.

NO REBEL TROOPS NORTH OF BULL RUN MOUNTAINS.

Further reconnoissances on the other side of the river in front of Washington continue to demonstrate that there is no considerable force of rebels this side of the Bull run mountains.

THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS OF MISSOURI AND OHIO.

By the direction of the President the States of Missouri, Arkansas, and the bordering Indian territory, will constitute the Department of the Missouri, and will be commanded by Major General S. R. Curtis, headquarters at St. Louis. Alton, Illinois, is attached to the Department of the Missouri. Western Virginia is attached to the Department of the Ohio; headquarters at Cincinnati.

THE MAILS RESTORED IN MARYLAND.

Mail facilities have been restored to Frederick, Hagerstown and intermediate points.

THE REMOVAL OF THE UNITED STATES CAPITAL TO NEW YORK.

People who pretend to look into the future condition of our country are beginning to talk of the importance of removing the capital to New York when the war is ended and the rebellion suppressed. They argue that the present location of the capital has been the occasion of various difficulties in the prosecution of the war. It has seriously embarrassed the movements of our army, its exposed position rendering elaborate works and large forces necessary for its defence. The necessities of the case are magnified by a set of old fogies here who become exceedingly nervous whenever the army moves its length away from Washington. Let the rebels menace this city in the slightest degree and our army must be called home to defend it, and opportunities for striking at the rebel army are lost because they fear to allow our forces to march away from the apron strings of this mother of dead politicians. If the seat of government had been at the North it would have been equivalent to a hundred and fifty thousand men added to our moveable forces.

NAVAL PROMOTION.

This correspondence recently stated that Captain Samuel Phillips Lee was appointed Acting Rear Admiral of the North Atlantic Blockading squadron. It may now be added that the same rank has been conferred upon Commodore Charles Wilkes, commanding the special West India squadron; upon Commodore J. L. Lardner, commanding the Eastern Gulf Blockading squadron; upon Commodore C. H. Davis, commanding the Naval Mississippi fleet; and upon Commodore C. H. Bell, commanding the Pacific squadron.

DROPPED FROM THE ROLLS.

Acting Master's Mate Niel Alexander having been reported to the Navy Department as a deserter, has been dropped from the rolls of the service.

CONTINUANCE OF THE OVERLAND MAIL.

The Post Office Department has ordered the continuance of the Pacific mail on the overland route, having received reliable information that there is no danger to be apprehended from their being tampered with by Indians. It is positively asserted that since the removal of the Cherokee tribe at no time has there been any necessity for the mails being discontinued. The great overland mail now passes daily through Denver. Passengers are constantly travelling on this route.

TREASURY NOTES OF SMALL DENOMINATIONS.

The Treasury Department is now getting off some eighty thousand dollars daily in notes of the denomination of one and two dollars. This amount of issue will be doubled in a few days through a multiplication of the engraved plates.

RESTRICTION OF BANK NOTE CIRCULATION.

A notice from the Secretary of the Treasury may be shortly expected, forbidding the issue of small notes by banks here, or the circulation in this city of the small notes of Northern banks.

THE WOUNDED REBEL PRISONERS.

It is said that the wounded rebels, who, with some of our soldiers, were placed in hospital in the Capitol yesterday, are covered with vermin. Members of Congress here are expressing some interest in the matter.

EXCHANGED PRISONERS OF WAR.

According to an army order just issued, the prisoners of war, except commissioned officers, who were delivered to Lieut. Colonel Ludlow, Aid-de-Camp to Major General Dix, at Aikon's Landing, James river, Virginia, on the 14th and 15th instants, are declared to be exchanged.

THE CHEROKEES REPUDIATE THE REBELS.

William N. Ross, a relative of John Ross, has arrived here with a communication from the latter to the President, asking that the Cherokees be recognized in all their treaty rights, and setting forth that what was done by that nation seemingly favoring the rebels was under duress and from intimidation.

THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

Recently instructions were given to the commanding officers of all arsenals and armories of the United States to administer the oath of allegiance to the employes under their command. Nineteen refused to take the oath at the Springfield (Mass.) Armory, on the ground that they were foreigners. The Secretary of War gave orders for their immediate dismissal.

OPINIONS OF THE FRENCH PRESS IN REGARD TO EMIGRATION TO THE UNITED STATES.

The following is an official translation from an article in La Patrie of September 4, 1862:—

The Presse publishes the following circular, communicated to it by the United States Consul in Paris, which had been addressed by the Secretary of State and Foreign Affairs at Washington to all the agents and consuls of the United States:—

TO THE DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR OFFICERS OF THE UNITED STATES IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Sept. 8, 1862.

At no former period of our history have our agricultural or mining interests been more prosperous than at this juncture. The fact may be deemed surprising, in view of the enhanced price for labor occasioned by the demand for the rank and file of the United States. It may, therefore, be confidently asserted that even now nowhere else can the industrious laboring man and artisan expect so liberal a recompense for his services as in the United States. You are authorized and directed to make these truths known in any quarter, and in any way, which may lead to the migration of such persons to this country. It is believed that a knowledge of them will alone suffice to cause them to be acted upon. The government has no legal authority to offer any pecuniary inducements to the advent of industrious foreigners.

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

The Presse gives to this circular the most sympathetic reception. It hastens to recommend to those of our workingmen—and these, it says, "are counted by thousands"—"who with horror see the approach of winter, and with that season the rigors of a forced suspension of labor," to respond to this appeal and to cross the Atlantic. They will thus secure to their families, through the benefits of high wages, abundant supplies. We admit that the circular of Mr. Seward meets on our part with less enthusiasm. We, therefore, recommend to the French workingmen, notwithstanding "a degree of comfort acquired readily and a fortune for some of them at least," which the Presse holds out as a mirror before their eyes, to be on their guard respecting the promises of the American government. It would have seemed necessary, for instance, under the present circumstances, that the circular of Mr. Seward should have informed us whether the "wages" would be paid in "coin" or in that "paper money" so readily issued, we acknowledge, but at the same time so little to be trusted. That would have been an interesting postscriptum.

In order to induce our workingmen to emigrate, the Presse adds that they will enjoy a privilege which the native born American has not, viz.—"They will not be subject to the draft." Nothing more seemed wanting to complete the circular of Mr. Seward. LOUIS BELLET.

The following is from the Phare de la Loire:—

NANTES, Sept. 3, 1862.

We publish elsewhere a circular from Mr. Seward, Minister of Foreign Affairs at Washington, which is deserving of especial attention. Our pro-slavery papers have published with great readiness the cessation of the movement of immigration, by which our numerous European workingmen were carried forcibly to the United States. All that can contribute to the weakening and ruin of the great American republic excites the joy of the shameless friends of the South; and, therefore, they have pleasantly insisted upon the seriousness of this fact. Were we to believe them we ought to see in it a forced result of the pending contest between the federals and the secessionists, a sign of the disorder consequent thereon, and a proof of the sufferings of commerce, industry and agriculture on the other side of the Atlantic. The current of emigration was necessarily to stop in view of the stagnation of affairs and want of labor. Well, then, all these pictures, pushed to the utmost, were either false or exaggerated. Doubtless the war in America has caused great sufferings; doubtless the productive forces of the country have felt this unlooked for event; but in fact consumption does not become less in a nation because it is fighting; and, because great dangers are run, the people do not on that account become savages. They have wants which must be supplied; they still continue to lead a civilized life, and in that very way they secure work and bread to the laboring classes. We will say more. War, in requiring the employment of many hands formerly dedicated to the labors of peace, causes a forced augmentation of the wages. This is evident from the circular of Mr. Seward. That paper is an appeal to the workmen who, in England and elsewhere, are victims to the cotton crisis. In going to the United States they will have nothing to fear, as foreigners, to be subjected to the law of conscription. The situation of affairs offers them, on the contrary, the certainty of going to take the place, peaceably, in the manufactories, mines and farms, of the Americans who serve under the banner of the Union.

AMUSEMENTS LAST EVENING.

Academy of Music.

DEBUT OF MISS CARLOTTA PATTI.

There was a splendid house last night to welcome to the stage another member of that family which has been so long identified with musical affairs in this country, and which bids fair in the future to reflect upon us some portion of the artistic prestige which Italy, France and Germany have hitherto monopolized. Viewed in this light, as well as in reference to the unquestionable merits of the fair aspirant for lyrical honors, it is not surprising that the debut of Miss Patti should have excited among our community more than usual interest.

Bellini's operas are in general best suited to the class of singers whom the French style chanteuses legeres. They are wanting in those noble orchestral effects unaided by which the action of the stage rarely rises to the level of grandeur. On the other hand they are full of the happiest poetic inspirations in the form of delicious melodies, and therefore more frequently afford a test of vocal excellence than the higher class of compositions. For this reason most of the great artists who have risen to fame within the last quarter of a century have included one or more of his creations in their repertoires. In the role of Amina, Malibran, Sontag, Persiani, Gassier and Jenny Lind won their greatest successes. It is a part which requires extended compass of voice, great flexibility and judgment to resist the temptation to overcharge with fioriture its beautiful melodies. It demands, moreover, sentiment and feeling, with a fair share of personal attractions and youthfulness of appearance.

In reference to all these qualities the choice by Miss Patti of this role for her debut was an exceedingly happy one. Her voice takes a great range, and is wonderfully agile in execution. She is young, she is pretty, and she has all that freshness and apparent naivete which are essential to the realization of the librettist's ideal. The only doubt that remained to be solved in her regard was whether the novelty of her situation and unfamiliarity with stage usages would not so paralyze her powers as to render the effort a failure, or, at all events, detract greatly from her success. Thanks to her fine musical organization and the careful training of Signor Scola, she has triumphantly passed the ordeal.

Dominating the artistic interest of the occasion, it was plain, was the curiosity excited among the female portion of the audience to see how far the physical difficulty under which she has been so recently laboring had been overcome. On her entrance every eye was strained to watch the manner in which she would advance towards the footlights. Although the limp was still plainly perceptible, there was a wonderful improvement, and the plaudits of welcome with which she was received were redoubled from surprise at the facility with which she moved. The first few phrases of recitation which she uttered were almost indistinct from nervousness; but after a few moments this wore off, and her opening cavatina was delivered with all the ease and brilliancy which she is accustomed to display in her vocal efforts. There was a marked difference in the volume of her voice in the recitative passages and in her singing, a fact to be accounted for by her newness to the stage. In her byo play, too, there was a little restraint; but both these defects will disappear when she becomes at home in her parts. Even as it was she gathered more strength and confidence as the opera progressed, and sang and acted with as much spirit as could be expected under the circumstances. In the finale of the first act she made a marked impression, and the curtain fell amid enthusiastic applause, which was continued until she was brought out to receive a fresh ovation in the form of floral offerings.

In the second act she sustained herself admirably throughout, singing charmingly, and in the mill scene, the most trying ordeal that an artist can pass through, she was thrillingly effective. Her rondo was capitally delivered, and derived fresh beauties from her exquisite vocalization. The impression which she left artistically was a most satisfactory one, and only increased the regret that there should still remain the slightest physical blemish on so fair a performance. At the close of the opera she was again called before the curtain.

The Elvino of the evening was Signor Sbriglia, who, amongst his other recommendations, had the rare merit of thinking less of himself than of the debutante, to whom he gave most effective support. Of Susini's Rodolpho we need scarcely say that it was, as usual, broad, vigorous, and excellently sung. The conductor was Muzio, who made the most of the limited resources at his disposal.

Miss Patti will appear on Wednesday in Lucia, and will be supported on this occasion by Brignoli.

Wallack's Theatre—School for Scandal.

The rendering of this fine and inexhaustible old play at Wallack's last night won the unqualified approbation of a full and a distinguished audience. The particular feature of the evening was the Sir Peter Teazle of Mr. John Gilbert, in the place of that old favorite Sir Peter, the jovial and genial Blake. Much therefore was expected of Mr. Gilbert in the assumption of this character on his first appearance; and when we say that the house was perfectly satisfied with his execution of the part, we believe that we are only doing simple justice to this careful and finished actor, and to his critical and discriminating audience. The Sir Peter of Gilbert is the polished old gentleman of the capital and the epoch represented. "The very age and body of the time" are not less carefully studied in his department and conversation than in the admirable costumes of all the characters, from first to last. Of the merits of Mrs. Hoey's Lady Teazle, Lester Wallack's Charles Surface, Fisher's Joseph, Smith's Sir Oliver, Holland's Moses, and so on to the end of the list, it is needless to inform the reader. They were unexceptionably good, and all harmoniously adapted to the complete success of the elegant entertainment which the management had in view in the arrangement of the cast and the getting up of the costumes and all the details of the play. An old comedy, as costumed and performed at Wallack's, is a rare treat, comprising much of agreeable historical instruction with the most pleasurable intellectual recreation. Bulwer's delightful comedy of "Money" this evening.

Laura Keene's Theatre.

The reopening of this popular theatre, after an unusually prolonged recess, was marked last evening by the presence of a most fashionable and numerous audience. Every seat in the house was occupied, and during the course of the performance no opportunity was lost by the audience to evince their appreciation of the zealous efforts of the accomplished directress to cater for the public amusement. The honors showered upon Miss Keene last evening were only a well deserved and substantial testimony to her merits. During the summer vacation the painters and upholsterers have plied their vocation so industriously that the house now presents an entirely fresh and pleasing aspect. The scenery to a great extent is new, and the old act drop curtain has been replaced by an elegant affair, fresh from the brush of Mr. Minard Lewis, a native artist, whose work bespeaks him a man of taste and skill in his profession. But the mechanical and scenic improvements are only a secondary consideration when viewed beside the other desirable changes Miss Laura Keene has introduced, particularly in the personnel of her company, which may now compare with the best in the city, not excepting even Wallack's. We believe it is Miss Keene's intention to discard, at least for the present, the sensation drama, and to produce the good old standard comedies, which, after all, possess the most permanent elements of success and popularity. With the materiel furnished by the company she has gathered about her, she may safely venture the experiment, and rest confident that her efforts will be properly appreciated by the public. The season was judiciously opened with Bourcicault's sterling comedy, "Old Heads and Young Hearts"—Blake as Jesse Rural; Miss Keene as Lady Alice, and Chas. Wheatleigh as Tom Coke. The piece was produced most carefully and effectively. It is not necessary to state that the three characters specified were splendidly enacted, as the talent of the artists named has long been acknowledged and admired. The other principal parts were also admirably sustained by Miss Clifton, Mrs. Hind, Stuart Robson (a new actor here), Stoddart, and C. Walcot, Jr. Our space will not permit of a more extended notice.

The Skedaddle in the Camps at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20, 1862.

The reports published of the "skedaddle" among the troops in camp here are greatly exaggerated. Only two hundred and fifty men ran away, and six hundred received furloughs, leaving fifteen hundred men in camp. No one was shot, as reported. All returned to camp to-day, and good order again prevails.

IMPORTANT FROM KENTUCKY.

Rebel Cavalry Attacks on New Castle and Shepherdsville.

ATTACK BY GUERILLAS ON OWENSBORO.

The Rebels Routed After a Desperate Encounter.

Rumored Repulse of Gen. Bragg's Rear Guard.

Preparations for the Defence of Louisville,

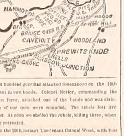

&c., &c., &c.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 21, 1862.

A despatch from Lagrange to-day says that George Jessee, with two hundred rebel cavalry, attacked at New Castle one hundred and twenty-five of the Home Guard cavalry, under Robert Morris. The latter, without firing a gun, surrendered his men, horses and three hundred stand of arms. The report is considered doubtful.

Another despatch has just reached here saying that the rebels subsequently burned New Castle.

Shepherdsville advices say that Colonel Granger's command, at that place, was attacked to-day by rebel cavalry, who intended to burn the bridge. Granger repulsed them, killing five and taking twenty-eight prisoners.

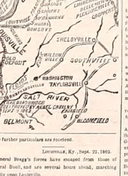

Six hundred guerillas attacked Owensboro on the 19th instant in two bands. Colonel Netter, commanding the Union force, attacked one of the bands and was slain. Five of our men were wounded. The rebels lost five killed. At noon we shelled the rebels, killing three, when they retreated.

On the 20th instant Lieutenant Colonel Wood, with four hundred and fifty Union cavalry, attacked, and after a most desperate encounter routed from Owensboro, eight hundred rebels, under Colonel Martin, who lost twenty-eight killed and twenty-five wounded. Our loss was three killed and eighteen wounded.

We captured their army stores and seven prisoners.

Reliable advices from Cave City say that a portion of Gen. Buell's force attacked and repulsed Gen. Bragg's rear guard from Horse Cave on Thursday evening. Gen. Bragg is reported to have moved the main body of his army across the river southward from Munfordsville.

No further particulars are received.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 22, 1862.

General Bragg's forces have escaped from those of General Buell, and are several hours ahead, marching rapidly upon Louisville.

Major General Nelson is making arrangements to defend the city to the last. He has just issued the following order:—

The women and children of this city will prepare to leave without delay.

Jefferson ferry is to be used exclusively for military purposes.

Persons on foot may proceed as usual.

The city is in a blaze of excitement in consequence of the approach of the rebel forces.

Most of the stores are closed.

The citizens apprehend that an attack will be made within forty-eight hours.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 22—Evening.

The main body of Bragg's army was reported to be at Hodginville, Larue county, this morning, en route for Bardstown. It is supposed he reached Bardstown this evening.

Ninety-five of the Fourth Indiana cavalry, under Captain Shuler, attacked about the same number of Forrest's rebel cavalry yesterday morning, a mile from Lebanon Junction, and drove them a short distance. The rebels were reinforced by twice their number; but our troops still pursued them, driving them into Boston, killing five, wounding seventeen, and capturing thirty two. We lost eleven prisoners and two wounded.

Governor Robinson has issued a proclamation, calling the citizens to take up arms under General Nelson for the defence of the city.

Mayor Delph has ordered all business houses to be closed.

General Nelson has issued a patriotic and stirring address to his soldiers to give a bloody welcome to the rebel hordes now invading Kentucky.

The report of the burning of New Castle was incorrect, and even the surrender of Morris is now discredited in military circles.

Humphrey Marshall, with twelve thousand men and forty-two pieces of artillery, was expected to reach Paris yesterday morning, it is supposed intending to join Kirby Smith's force at Lexington.

There has been a great exodus of women and children from Louisville, but the excitement has somewhat subsided.

Military operations are very extensive and actively progressing.

IMPORTANT FROM TENNESSEE.

The Bridge Over the Hatchie River Destroyed by Guerillas—Movements of the Rebels, &c.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 20, 1862.

The bridge over the Hatchie river, a few miles north of this city, was burned by guerillas on Thursday night. The bridge was not guarded, as it was considered of no importance.

General Villipigue's forces are reported to be stationed twelve miles from Memphis, in the vicinity of Hernando.

The army of General Breckinridge is at Holly Springs.

An expedition with transports, convoyed by a gunboat, left Helena on Wednesday. A part of the troops landed at Lacoma, Ark., twenty miles above Napoleon. The precise object of the movement is not known.

THE VICTORY OF I-U-K-A.

CAIRO, Sept. 22, 1862.

The latest information in regard to the battle of I-u-k-a, Miss., states that on Saturday Price was attacked at three points at the same time, and, being nearly surrounded, he cut his way through at the point where the Forty-seventh Illinois regiment was stationed. This regiment suffered more severely than any other in the fight.

An attempt was made on Friday evening by a gang of rebels to burn the hospital, but they were repulsed by sharpshooters with severe loss.

During the fight of Saturday a body of Texan Rangers made a dash on one of our batteries, and notwithstanding a determined resistance, succeeded in spiking two guns. Our troops acted throughout with gallantry and unflinching bravery.

The following despatch has been received from General Grant:—

HEADQUARTERS, CORINTH, Sept. 22, 1862.

Major General HALLECK, General-in-Chief:—

In my despatch of the 20th our loss was over estimated, and the rebel loss under estimated. We found two hundred and sixty-one of them dead upon the field, while our loss in killed will be less than one hundred.

U. S. GRANT, Major General.

Dispersion of Guerillas.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22, 1862.

The following official report has just been received from the expedition under Colonel Burris, which has been in pursuit of Quantrel's guerilla bands since their raid in Olathe:—For fourteen days our forces have been in hot pursuit of Quantrel through Jackson, Cass, Johnson and Lafayette counties, unable to bring on an engagement other than an occasional picket skirmish, until the 9th, when about fifty of our cavalry came up with the enemy five miles north of Pleasanton Hill. A brisk fire was kept up for about ten minutes, when the enemy broke and fled in confusion, leaving two dead on the field. We pursued them two miles, when they entered the woods, scattering in all directions. Enemy's loss unknown. Our loss is one killed and three wounded. We captured all the enemy's transportation and subsistence, one hundred stand of arms, ten thousand rounds of ammunition, one hundred horses, five wagons, a number of tents and other camp equipage, also a considerable quantity of dry goods, groceries, &c., previously stolen from the citizens of Olathe. The houses, outbuildings, grain, &c., belonging to some twelve noted marauders, whose premises had been the favorite haunts of guerillas, were burned.

Major General Schuyler Hamilton.

We are happy to announce that the President has appointed Brigadier General Schuyler Hamilton, United States Volunteers, a major general of volunteers, "for meritorious services at New Madrid and Island No. 10."

In General Pope's report, dated "Expeditionary Forces, New Madrid, Mo., April 9, 1862," that General, with a magnanimity rarely met with, and in no instance excelled, opens his report with these words:—"The canal across the peninsula, opposite Island No. 10, and for the idea of which I am indebted to General Schuyler Hamilton, was completed by Colonel Bissell's Engineer regiment, and four steamers were brought through on the night of the 6th."

Major General Hamilton, now in his fortieth year, graduated from West Point July, 1841, at nineteen years of age.

After arduous duties in the West, he served with distinction in Mexico, under General Taylor. Severely wounded at the storming of Monterey, he was brevetted for gallant and meritorious services. Suffering much from his wounds and the accidents incidental to the service (having received while on duty a severe fracture of his skull, which was succeeded by a severe attack of malarial fever), upon his recovery he was honored by the appointment of aid-de-camp to General Scott.

While holding this position, "in an affair of cavalry against cavalry, four times his number, at Miraflores," he was transfixed by a lance, which entered near the spine and passed through the left lung, fracturing several ribs. After a slow and painful recovery he returned to duty in the city of Mexico, and subsequently remained in the military family of General Scott for nearly seven years.

His health and constitution being much impaired, he retired from the service and settled as a farmer in the town of Branford, New Haven county, Connecticut.

Upon the appearance of the President's proclamation, April 15, 1862, he hastened from his farm and joined the Seventh regiment New York State Militia, National Guard (as they may now be truly styled), as a private, and marched on for Washington. Rendering important services to Colonel Lefferts and the Seventh regiment at Annapolis, he attracted the attention of General Butler, the present hero of New Orleans. With him he remained until the crisis was past, and then hastened on to join his old commander at Washington, who welcomed him to his family again, and appointed him his military secretary and confidential aid. In this position he remained until the retirement of Lieutenant General Scott, the first and only officer of his grade and foremost soldier of his age.

The appointment of brigadier general was then conferred upon Colonel Hamilton, and, by his devotion to duty since that time, he has attained his present rank of major general. A native born citizen of this State and city, great grandson of Major General Philip Schuyler, and grandson of Major General Alexander Hamilton, the favorite aid and friend of Washington, heroes of the Revolution, thus identified with this State, we congratulate him on his well earned promotion and return to active service, after the severe illness incurred in his campaign in the West.

May his reward be continued success and a long life in which to enjoy his well merited honors.

Lecture of George Francis Train.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22, 1862.

George Francis Train received an ovation from the Philadelphia public this evening at the Academy of Music equal to that bestowed on Parson Brownlow and other champions of American institutions who have preceded him. The house was crowded to excess. Mr. Train was introduced by Cassius M. Clay, and made a characteristic speech on "The Rotten Institutions of England." A number of civil and military dignitaries occupied the platform. His remarks were frequently greeted with applause.

THE FIREMEN.

AT A SPECIAL MEETING OF MECHANIC HOOK and Ladder Company No. 7, held at the truck house, on Sunday, September 21, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Whereas, it has pleased an all-wise Providence to remove from our midst, by death, our late brother-member and ex-foreman, Frederick P. Geil, therefore,

Resolved, That, while we bow in submission to the Divine Will, we should be admonished that "in the midst of life we are in death."

Resolved, That we tender to the family of the deceased our heartfelt sympathies, and it is our ardent wish that they may be strengthened under their heavy loss.

Resolved, That out of respect to the memory of the deceased, we attend the funeral in a body and the truck house be draped, and the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and that a copy of these Resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased and be published in the New York Herald.

THE SITUATION.

The latest news from the headquarters of Gen. McClellan's army reports everything quiet in that direction. The full amount of our loss in the late battles has not been ascertained. That of Gen. Sumner's army corps, however, numbers 5,280.

A raid was made by Stuart's rebel cavalry across the Potomac into Maryland on Friday evening, accompanied by a regiment of infantry and seventeen pieces of artillery, but they were driven back again during the night. Next morning no rebels were visible. The work of burying the dead is still going on at the rate of a thousand a day.

The proclamation of the President, which we publish to-day, and upon which we comment in our editorial columns, will strike our readers as the most important document which has yet been issued by the Executive. Based upon the Confiscation act framed by the last Congress, it leaves the option to the rebel slave States either to return to their allegiance before the 1st of January, 1863, or to submit to the entire emancipation of all their slaves. In such States or portions of States as are loyal to the government at that date, the right of property in slaves will be respected, and the President announces that he will renew the proposition to Congress to pay for slaves who may be set free by the will of their masters in any loyal State.

The news from the West is of a stirring character. It would appear that General Bragg's forces are marching upon Louisville, having escaped from those of General Buell. Major General Nelson is making arrangements to defend the city of Louisville to the last, and has just issued the following order:—"The women and children of this city will prepare to leave without delay. Jefferson ferry is to be used exclusively for military purposes. Persons on foot may proceed as usual." An attack was expected yesterday within twenty-four hours, and the city was in a state of great excitement. Governor Robinson and Mayor Delph have issued strong proclamations to the people. Advices from Cave City say that a portion of Gen. Buell's force attacked and repulsed Gen. Bragg's rear guard from Horse Cave on Thursday evening last.

On the 20th instant Lieutenant Colonel Wood, with four hundred and fifty Union cavalry, attacked, and routed from Owensboro, eight hundred rebels, under Colonel Martin, who lost twenty-eight killed and twenty-five wounded. Our loss was only three killed and eighteen wounded.

When the Nova Scotian left Londonderry for Quebec—on the 12th inst.—no later news from America than that brought by the Anglo-Saxon had been received in England. The effect of these advices has reached us from the Borussia, off Cape Race, and was commented on in the Herald. The English people believed that a decisive, if not final, battle was near at hand in the United States, and the arrival of the next steamer from this country was looked for with great anxiety.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

The steamship Nova Scotian, from Londonderry on the 12th instant, passed Cape Race last Sunday evening, on her voyage to Quebec. Our agent telegraphs a summary of her news from St. Johns, Newfoundland, which is published in the Herald to-day. The advices are two days later than the report of the Borussia, at the same point.

There were only four thousand bales of cotton sold in Liverpool during three days—the 8th, 9th and 10th instant. The market was irregular and dull on the 11th instant, with prices from one to two pence lower. On the 12th instant the market was buoyant and experienced a trifling advance. The stock in port footed up ninety-two thousand five hundred bales. Breadstuffs were still downward, with flour easier. Provisions were flat. Consols closed in London on the 12th instant at 93⅝. Italy was still agitated, on account of the condition of health and situation of Garibaldi. A letter from General Bixio, denouncing the Ratazzi government for its treatment of the liberator, increased the uneasiness. A general amnesty was still advocated by the people. Spain was determined to draw closer to France in her diplomacy. The French transport Prince Jerome was burned off Gibraltar. No lives were lost.

The steamship Etna, from Queenstown on the 11th instant, arrived at this port yesterday evening. Her news has been fully anticipated.

The sixth section of the Confiscation act, which is the operating feature of the law, goes into effect to-day. The proclamation of the President was issued on the 25th of July, and the sixty days notice therein given expires to-day. The following is the section:—

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That if any person within any State or Territory of the United States, other than those named as aforesaid, after the passage of this act, being engaged in armed rebellion against the government of the United States, or aiding or abetting such rebellion, shall not, within sixty days after public warning and proclamation, duly given and made by the President of the United States, cease to aid, countenance and abet such rebellion, and return to his allegiance to the United States, all the estate and property, moneys, stocks and credits of such person shall be liable to seizure as aforesaid; and it shall be the duty of the President to seize and use them as aforesaid, or the proceeds thereof. And all sales, transfers or conveyances of any such property after the expiration of the said sixty days from the date of such warning and proclamation shall be null and void; and it shall be a sufficient bar to any suit brought by such person for the possession or the use of such property, or any of it, to allege and prove that he is one of the persons described in this section.

Poindexter, a notorious guerilla leader, who was recently captured in Missouri, escaped from St. Louis on the 17th inst.

All the Congregational churches in the State will be represented by their pastor and lay delegates in a convention which is to be held in Syracuse to-day.

The Board of Aldermen did not organize yesterday, for want of a quorum.

According to the City Inspector's report, there were 404 deaths in the city during the past week—a decrease of 121 as compared with the mortality of the week previous, and 34 more than occurred during the corresponding week last year. The recapitulation table gives 6 deaths of alcoholism, 4 of diseases of the bones, joints, &c.; 72 of the brain and nerves, 5 of the generative organs, 7 of the heart and blood vessels, 100 of the lungs, throat, &c.; 3 of old age, 13 of diseases of the skin and eruptive fevers, 6 premature births, 132 of diseases of the stomach, bowels and other digestive organs; 36 of uncertain seat and general fevers, 4 of diseases of the urinary organs, and 20 from violent causes. There were 286 natives of the United States, 8 of England, 75 of Ireland, 25 of Germany, and the balance of various foreign countries.

The stock market was firm at the opening yesterday, very buoyant to the middle of the day, and irregular at the close. Money was very easy at 4 per cent. Exchange firm but inactive at 129. Gold rose to 117¾; demand notes to 114½. The bank statement shows an increase of $1,633,391 in deposits, $737,792 in specie, and $170,715 in loans.

The cotton market yesterday opened with more animation than prevailed on Saturday, and prices exhibited more steadiness, while the sales embraced about 600 bales, on the basis of 53c. a 54c. for middling and uplands, mostly at the outside figure. The Nova Scotian's news did not transpire until the afternoon, too late for its effect, if any, to be developed. The demand for home consumption, combined with the light stock, prevents this market sympathizing with that of Liverpool to the extent that otherwise might be expected. The flour market was steady for common and medium grades, and the higher brands of good extras were scarce and firm, while prices generally were unchanged. The sales made were to a fair extent. Wheat was heavy, and declined 1 cent per bushel, while the market was active at the concession, and in good part for export. Corn was firmer for good sound Western mixed, which was extremely scarce, while parcels in poor condition were plenty and prices unchanged. Small sales of good sound Western mixed were made at 63c. a 64c. Pork was heavy and cheaper. Sales of mess were made at $11 62½ a $11 75, and of prime at $10 a $10 12½. Lard was steady, with sales at 9c. a 9½c. Sugars were active and prices steady, with sales of 2,000 hhds., 1,029 boxes and 5,162 bags of Manila, at prices given in another column. Coffee was steady but quiet. Freights were firmer. To Liverpool wheat was engaged, in bulk and bags, at 13d. a 13½d., and to Glasgow at 14d., with some lots in ships' bags reported at 14½d. A vessel was engaged to the same port, to load with wheat, at 14d.

Important from Washington—The President's Proclamation.

The President has issued a proclamation to the people of the rebel States. It will be found in another column of this morning's paper. It is one of the most important documents that has emanated from the Executive Department of the republic since the adoption of the federal constitution.

On the 25th of July last, the President, in accordance with the act of Congress approved on the 17th of that month, gave sixty days' notice to those in rebellion that the property of all rebels would be confiscated and their slaves made free if they persisted in their suicidal course. The notice expires to-day, the 23d inst., and the proclamation now issued presents the case in its new and significant aspect.

The gravity of this proclamation will strike every one. It has been forced upon the nation by the abolitionists of the North and the secessionists of the South. It inaugurates an overwhelming revolution in the system of labor in a vast and important agricultural section of the country, which will, if the rebels persist in their course, suddenly emancipate three or four millions of human beings, and throw them, in the fulness of their helplessness and ignorance, upon their own resources and the wisdom of the white race to properly regulate and care for them in their new condition of life. But the importance of this great social revolution will not be confined to the section where the black race now forms the chief laboring element. It will have an influence on the labor of the North and West. It will, to a certain extent, bring the black labor of the South in competition with the white labor on the extensive grain farms of the West, unless the existing stringent laws of some of the Western States, confining the negro to his present geographical position, are adopted in all the other free States.

This proclamation, however, gives the South an opportunity to escape the fate so clearly and emphatically marked out by Mr. Lincoln. It should be her golden opportunity. It is to be seen that the President has fixed on the 1st day of January, 1863, as the day for the emancipation of all slaves in States in rebellion to the federal government on that day. This should strike home to the interests of the people of the South. It must be manifest to them that the rebellion cannot succeed. The reception of the rebel army by the people of Maryland, after all the promises and preparations leading to the invasion of that State, must have its peculiar and impressive significance with them. The late utter rout of the rebels by McClellan at South Mountain and Antietam, to be followed by the marching of a million of loyal men for the annihilation of this rebellion, must convince them, unless they are mad, of the hopelessness of their cause.

It is at this time, with victory in our hands, and enormous preparations for crushing out all opposition, that the President issues this important manifesto, and gives the people of the South this chance. It is now the question with them whether or not they are prepared, for the sake of the few miserable leaders of this wicked rebellion, to submit to this overwhelming revolution in their social system. There is the document. There is the time fixed for the return of the rebellious States to the allegiance of the federal government. No event in the history of the world surpasses the one now presented by the President, and which is to be decided in a little over ninety days.

The Campaign in Virginia—The Duty of the Hour.

Now that the rebels, in consequence of the victories of Gen. McClellan, have been compelled to evacuate Maryland and retreat into Virginia by the way they came, in order to fall back upon Richmond, to save it from capture, and to save the remnant of their invading army from destruction, the duty of preventing its escape falls upon Gen. Halleck and the War Department; and it will soon be seen what amount of capacity there is at Washington to render the campaign decisive by the capture of the whole of Lee's army. McClellan has done his part. He has driven the enemy back from Maryland across the Potomac, and it rests with the War Department and the military authorities at Washington to perform their parts by confining the rebel army in the mountains of Virginia, and thus cutting off its supplies and reducing it to starvation or surrender.

To accomplish this it will be necessary to send a force rapidly to Fredericksburg and Gordonsville, in order to seize the railroads and sever the communication of the rebels with their base of supplies. Upon the manner in which they accomplish these movements depends the speedy success of the campaign or the prolongation of the struggle to next spring. In the winter little can be done in Virginia. To finish the war with the year 1862 it will be necessary to "make hay while the sun shines."

It was a great blunder to withdraw McClellan from Harrison's Landing. It gave the opportunity to the rebels, which they desired, to fall upon Pope's army, cut it up and demoralize it before it could form a junction with the army of McClellan. It was the same radical influence in the Cabinet that divided the Army of the Potomac and prevented its being reinforced at the critical moment that caused it to retreat from the James river to Washington; and the terrible experiment was made to give McDowell and Pope a chance to become great generals. After their miserable failure, when they were even reinforced by the army of McClellan, but without the presence of that general, he took the same whipped armies, and with them he defeated the rebel host, flushed with its victories. The loss of human life or the safety of the republic seems never to have entered into the calculations of the selfish politicians who hitherto have had the control of the army. Had it been otherwise McDowell, who had been tried at Bull run in July, 1861, and so sadly failed then and there, would never have had a second chance to fail on the same ground in August, 1862, to say nothing of his failure to reinforce McClellan from Fredericksburg when he heard the sound of his cannon at Hanover Court House. Had Harper's Ferry been taken proper care of from Washington, and had a sufficient force been sent up the south side of the Potomac to hold the fords, the army of Lee could not have recrossed into Virginia, and it would have been all destroyed or captured by the victorious army of McClellan after the battle of Sharpsburg.

But, now that the rebels have succeeded in recrossing the Potomac in safety, it remains to be seen what dispositions of troops will be made to intercept them in their retreat to Richmond. Thoroughfare Gap, Warrenton, Fredericksburg and Gordonsville ought to be occupied immediately with Union troops from Washington, in order to head off the rebel army while McClellan presses on its rear and places it between two fires. Let this be done with promptitude and vigor, and the rebellion in Virginia will be ended before the first frost.

Dismissal of Commander Preble.—No one will condemn the show of vigor exhibited by the Navy Department in the case of this officer. Had it been displayed sooner the blockade would not have proved so ineffective as it has done on several points of our coast. We question, however, whether the manner in which the department has punished the alleged dereliction of duty on the part of this officer is exactly that which is demanded by the interests of the service, or which is calculated to promote the object in view. Taking for granted that Admiral Farragut's charges against him are correct, the proper course to pursue in his case would be to suspend him from duty and try him by court martial. To dismiss him from the service, without hearing what he has to say in his defence, is a violation of every constitutional principle, and establishes a most dangerous precedent. We are induced to lay the greater stress on this case because there have been several instances lately in which army officers have been summarily dismissed in the same manner, and again reinstated on proof of the injustice done them. All this is very wrong, and shows, to say the least of it, a fitful, arbitrary temper in the management of the two departments.

Advance in the Price of Coal.—A Caution to Speculators.—Within the last few weeks the price of coal has been steadily advancing, until it is now about seven dollars a ton. The dealers tell their customers that by midwinter it will be at ten or twelve dollars. The causes assigned for this extravagant rise are, first, the tax; secondly, the interruption in canal transportation occasioned by the freshets; and, lastly, the scarcity of labor caused by volunteering in the coal districts. All these reasons combined will not serve to account for the rapid advance in the price which is now taking place, being at the rate of a dollar a week. It is attributable, we understand, mainly to a combination amongst speculators, who are forcing the price up with the view of compelling the public to lay in stocks at a high figure. When this is accomplished the price will be put down again, and those who have purchased largely will find that they have been swindled. If housekeepers would adopt the policy of buying only what they require, and consuming as little as possible, they would soon break up this conspiracy against their pockets. The use of gas and naptha cooking stoves would enable them to dispense with a considerable quantity of the coal which they now burn.

The Radicals Still Harping on McClellan.

The unscrupulous Tribune, the organ of the infernal, destructive radicals, is still harping upon McClellan. It dares not now come out as boldly as it did in an extra, as well as in its regular editions, a short time ago, and pronounce General McClellan a double traitor, compared with whom Arnold was an angel. Neither does it now find it feasible to omit Gen. McClellan's name in its editorial references to the recent battles, as it did at first, ascribing all the credit to subordinate generals. Insinuations now take the place of direct charges, and the old sneers and innuendoes, so familiar to the Tribune's readers just before the first Bull run massacre, and just before the seven days' battles on the Chickahominy, are again assumed.

Take, for example, the Tribune of yesterday. In that paper poor Greeley has four columns of editorials, and in every column there is a malicious stab at McClellan. In the first column General Wadsworth is nominated for Governor, and is puffed, at McClellan's expense, as follows:—"Wadsworth was soon after made a brigadier, and as such served in the front of our lines opposite Centreville during the last gloomy winter, steadily insisting that there were not more than fifty thousand rebels there, and that our army would walk right over them if General McClellan would only say the word. It is now known that General Wadsworth was entirely right as to the strength of the enemy, and that General McClellan was deplorably misled." This is a lie on the face of it. Major General McClellan, Commander-in-Chief, probably knew the strength of the enemy better than any brigadier general, and certainly better than Brigadier General Wadsworth. What Wadsworth's abilities as a soldier were may be judged from the fact that he tried to get Raymond, of the Times, to attack McClellan, his superior officer, and that he has never since seen active service, and has distinguished himself only by interfering with the civil authorities of Washington. Besides this, it is not "now known" that the rebels only had fifty thousand men at Centreville and Manassas last winter. It is known that they had many more; but it is the policy of the radicals to underrate the rebel forces, so that they may make out our soldiers cowards, no matter whether the rebels are successful or defeated. For the rest, Gen. Pope tried Wadsworth's famous plan of "walking right over the rebels;" and how did it result?

In its second editorial column the Tribune says that Pope's "short but dashing" campaign was successful in its object, "but closed disastrously through the failure of some of General McClellan's lieutenants to reinforce and support, at the critical moment, the army which had so bravely and effectively befriended them." This is another palpable lie; for if it had not been for General McClellan's lieutenants, who bravely and effectively befriended Pope, all of the dashing Pope's army would have been captured or destroyed. But in the same column the Tribune continues:—"We do not consider the events of the past week a subject of congratulation." Of course not; for they were victories for the Union cause, and the Tribune congratulates itself only when the rebels triumph, having always been in favor of "letting the Southern States go." Then it again repeats:—"We do not think the Union cause has gained anything by the events of September." Of course not; for the safety of Washington is nothing; the safety of Baltimore is nothing; the deliverance of Maryland is nothing; the preservation of Pennsylvania is nothing; the loss of the rebel armies is nothing; the despair of the rebel leaders is nothing, to the Tribune, because it wants "to get rid of the President;" because, as it has recently asserted, "politically, a victory by McClellan would set us back six months." Oh, a model, loyal sheet is this Tribune! In its third editorial column yesterday it charges the Herald with its own invention of denouncing McClellan as "a usurper" and "a military dictator," and to this it insultingly adds, in its fourth editorial column, that, while there "is no shadow of truth" in such reports concerning Fremont, it "trusts"—only "trusts"—there is none in regard to McClellan. This cowardly and sneaking commentary upon its own story is worthy of the Tribune, and does not deserve refutation.

But how does Greeley justify the publication of these slanderous innuendoes against General McClellan? By what argument does he defend these assassin-like attacks, unworthy of a gentleman, characteristic only of a coward, impossible in a truly loyal man? Why, by the singular logic that the Herald is friendly to McClellan, and that the Richmond Whig says that "some notice should be taken of Wallace, of the New York Herald; but, unprincipled Swiss as he is, Wallace's heart has been all along with the South," and much more of the same sort, which the Tribune seems to think very important, as it has published it no less than three times already. What that has to do with McClellan we are at a loss to see; but, in order to knock away even such a prop to the Tribune's contemptible and malignant meanness, we assure poor Greeley that there is no such person as "Wallace, of the New York Herald," a fact of which he may convince himself at any time by examining the list of the names of our employes. All the Tribune's bluster and brag, therefore, goes for nothing, and Greeley might better be preparing himself for the fate which awaits him, and which he so much dreads, when the war is over and our brave soldiers come home to settle accounts with him and his accomplices, who have caused and prolonged this war, who have maligned and abused our officers and soldiers, and who are responsible before Heaven for the murder of many brave men.

The Newspaper of the Age.—By reference to a table, copied from our account books, of the circulation of the New York Herald during the past week, it will be seen that our average daily issue is now one hundred and twenty-three thousand four hundred and sixty copies. This extraordinary daily circulation is unequalled by that of any other paper in the world, and far surpasses that of any paper which ever before existed. It is equal to the combined issues of all the other daily papers in New York city, or to the combined issues of all the daily papers of London, and is twice as large as the combined issues of all the papers of Paris.

Such a record as this is gratifying as an expression of the estimation in which the New York Herald is held by the public. It has been attained only by our strict adherence to truth; by the enterprise we have displayed in obtaining the latest and fullest news and publishing all facts of public interest; by our unwavering loyalty to the government and the constitution, and especially by the fidelity, accuracy and completeness with which we have printed day by day the history of this great war for the Union.

Our envious rivals, and particularly the Tribune, cavil at and deny, but cannot alter these established facts. The abuse of such opponents seems our best praise; for our circulation grows larger and larger as these attacks continue, while the Tribune has fallen below all its contemporaries, its circulation being now also exceeded by that of the Times, the Sun, and even by that of the World. The reports of our war correspondents have uniformly been the best written, the fullest, the most detailed, the most accurate, the earliest, and the best illustrated by maps, drawn exclusively for this journal. The completeness of this correspondence may be judged from the fact that, besides all we publish, we have enough remaining every day to fill another paper of this size.

But we prefer to allow our rivals to praise us, and we therefore republish the subjoined note from Mr. S. H. Gay, the managing editor, under Mr. Greeley, of the New York Tribune—a paper which has often denied what its leading editor here admits in a private letter of instructions to his correspondent at Yorktown. The letter was picked up at Yorktown, and sent to us by a correspondent. We have the original now in our possession, with the correspondent's pencil notes on the back, and its authenticity has never been questioned by Mr. Gay or by any one acquainted with his handwriting and his peculiarity of writing the word "the" in the old style, "ye":—

Office of the Tribune, New York, April 23, 1862.

My Dear Sir—Mr. Sinclair has gone to ye army before Yorktown to make arrangements to get us ye news. He will probably see you, & you will act in conjunction with him.

Your sketch of ye battle-ground of ye 16th came just eight days after ye battle. Of course it was useless. The corr. of ye Philadelphia Inquirer had sent one to that paper, which it had had engraved & published, which I had also had engraved & published, three days before yours reached me. I pray you remember ye Tribune is a daily news paper—or meant to be,—& not a historical record of past events. Correspondence to be of any value must be prompt, fresh & full of facts. I know how difficult it is, under ye censorship to write, but there must be facts enough of general interest all about you to make a daily letter. Yours for to morrow's paper is ye best you have sent us—short & to ye purpose. I should like you to write daily, if only a half, a quarter column, so that ye report of all you may tell be continuous. The curiosity & anxiety about Yorktown is feverish, & ye public like ye paper best that is always giving something. If there is absolutely nothing to write about, drop a line and tell me that. The Herald is constantly ahead of us with Yorktown news. The batt'e of ye 16th we were compelled to copy from it. Yrs. very truly,
S. H. GAY.

We think this acknowledgment of our superiority a suitable corollary to our table of circulation. Why Mr. Gay does not admit the facts above stated in the Tribune, as well as in his private letters, we cannot say; nor can we explain how he and Mr. Greeley reconcile it with their consciences to abuse us in their paper while they confidentially own that "the Herald is constantly ahead," and that they are "compelled to copy from it."

The Harper's Ferry Disgrace—A Clear Case for a Court Martial.—Who is, or what parties are, responsible for the disgraceful, costly and humiliating surrender of Harper's Ferry? It is a clear case for a court martial, and President Lincoln should promptly order one to probe this matter to the bottom. The infamous and inhuman slanders against Colonel Miles, now lying in his grave, require no refutation. No honest man believes them. But what base motives could have dictated them? That is the question. Is not this business open to the suspicion that the unscrupulous tool of some dirty political faction has had a leading hand in it?

If the responsibility of the surrender of Harper's Ferry belongs especially to any one officer, we think that Col. Tom Ford, of Ohio, is that man. His abandonment of Maryland Heights was the loss of the whole position; for with those heights in possession of the enemy all the other defences of the town were untenable. Nor does it appear that Ford made even a respectable show of resistance to hold those heights. Gen. McClellan fought the successful battle of South Mountain on Sunday, the 14th, the cannonading of which was, perhaps, heard in the same mountain range at Harper's Ferry, only some twelve or fifteen miles off. We know, at all events, that had our officers in charge of that position held out till Monday night, instead of basely surrendering that morning, the beleaguering rebel forces would have been compelled to leave the place on Tuesday morning, as they did, to go up the river to the relief of Gen. Lee.

Thus, in holding Harper's Ferry a few hours longer, we should have saved to our Army of the Potomac from ten to twelve thousand men, some fifteen thousand muskets and rifles, from fifty to one hundred pieces of artillery, and valuable supplies of ammunition, provisions, wagons and stores of all kinds; but above all, in connection with these troops and materials of war, we should have saved a military position equal to fifty thousand men to General McClellan. But all was lost through this disgraceful capitulation, and thus the means and the way of escape were provided for the rebel army from Maryland, which otherwise would have been cut off. From the facts before us, had our forces at Harper's Ferry been under the command of an officer of Jeff. Davis, the capitulation would not have been contrived more advantageously than it has been to General Lee.

This, we repeat, is a clear and urgent case for a stringent court martial; and, as the fidelity of Miles is established, we submit that the abandonment of Maryland Heights by Tom Ford should be thoroughly investigated. We have had of late quite enough of these shameful capitulations, with the smallest possible show of honest resistance; nor until some exemplary punishments are administered for such outrageous delinquencies can we expect any great success. In conclusion, while such incompetent, blatherskiting politicians and adventurers as Tom Ford are assigned to such important military trusts as Maryland Heights, we have no right to expect anything but disappointments and disgrace.

Christy's Minstrels.—We are glad to learn that there is no truth in the report that this popular troupe are about to leave on a professional tour. They are permanently established in their present hall, where the business has been such as to render any change in their plans unnecessary.

General Pope at St. Paul.

[From the St. Paul Press, Sept. 16.]

Major General Pope and staff arrived here by the Northern Belle at nine o'clock last evening, and put up at the International. Brigadier General Elliott, who has been ordered to report to General Pope, in this city, is with the party. Brigadier General Roberts, who has also been ordered to report to General Pope, is expected to-morrow.

The names, rank and position of the party who arrived last evening are as follows:—

Major General Pope.
Brigadier General Elliott.
Colonel Morgan, Aid-de-Camp to General Pope.
Colonel Marshall, Aid-de-Camp to General Pope.
Colonel Butler, Aid-de-Camp to General Pope.
Lieutenant Colonel Smith, Aid-de-Camp to Gen. Pope.
Captain Pope, Aid-de-Camp to Gen. Pope.
Major Selfridge, Assistant Adjutant General to General Pope.
Captain Jacobs, Assistant Adjutant General to General Pope.
Captain Bell, Assistant Adjutant General to General Roberts.

REPORTS FROM GENERAL McCLELLAN'S HEADQUARTERS.

Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, Sept. 21, 1862.

The firing heard last evening in the direction of Williamsport turns out to have been a raid of Stuart's rebel cavalry.

He crossed the Potomac on Friday night into Maryland, at that point, with his cavalry, one regiment of infantry and seventeen pieces of artillery. The force sent up to drive him back arrived near the town late in the afternoon. The firing heard was principally from the rebel guns.

During the night they recrossed into Virginia, and this morning they had disappeared from the opposite shore. No one was hurt.

The work of burying the dead is still continuing. They average about a thousand per day. To-morrow will probably finish it.

The Maryland Heights were yesterday occupied by a Union force.

The indications are that the rebels are continuing their retreat into Virginia, leaving the line of the Potomac.

Divine worship was held at headquarters this evening, Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, officiating.

Headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, Monday Evening, Sept. 22, 1862.

The following is the official report of our loss in Sumner's corps at the battle of the Antietam:—

General Richardson's Division.
Killed	212
Wounded	899
Missing	24
General Sedgwick's Division.
Killed	356
Wounded	1,577
Missing	321
General French's Division.
Killed	293
Wounded	1,321
Missing	293
Total loss in General Sumner's corps	5,208

The loss in missing may be somewhat reduced by stragglers returning.

A train of cars crossed the Monocacy this morning. The road is now open to Harper's Ferry, where there is a sufficient Union force for all purposes.

The rebels, in their hasty retreat from Maryland, left between 1,100 and 1,200 wounded between Sharpsburg and the river. They are being paroled.

Twenty-six stands of colors were taken during the battle of the Antietam, and have been received at headquarters. Seven more are known to have been captured, and are in the hands of the different regiments which captured them.

THE REPORTS FROM FREDERICK.

Frederick, Md., Sept. 22—9 P. M.

We have had the usual number of rumors to-day, but very little reliable news. I hear of no fighting to-day.

All are confident that the final destruction of the rebel army, which has been so badly defeated, is a fixed fact.

It is currently reported here that a portion of the rebel army has recrossed into Maryland at Williamsport, but this needs confirmation.

Miss Dix passed through here to-day on her way to Washington from Sharpsburg, where she has been to minister to the comfort of our wounded soldiers. She goes to Washington on business connected with her philanthropic mission, and is expected to return immediately.

Professor Lowe, with his balloon arrangements, has gone to the Potomac, where his services will doubtless prove of value.

REPORTS FROM HARRISBURG.

Harrisburg, Sept. 22, 1862.

There is no information here in regard to the condition of affairs in Maryland. The United States government has complete possession of the telegraph wires from Chambersburg to Hagerstown.

The Pennsylvania regiments will return to Harrisburg again, at the rate of two a day.

Deputations arrive here by every train, seeking information in regard to sick and wounded.

Travel from Chambersburg to Hagerstown has been stopped, no person being allowed to go over the railroad without a proper pass.

Gen. Geary having sufficiently recovered from his late wounds, will leave to-day and proceed to Hagerstown, for the purpose of rejoining his division, now in the field.

The statement that six regiments refused to cross the State line is without foundation.

It is not true that the State of New York offered troops for the purpose of defending Pennsylvania against invasion. No such offer was expected, as Governor Curtin felt perfectly competent to protect his State.

The militia forces of Pennsylvania saved, beyond question, the Cumberland Valley and possibly the State capital from a rebel raid.

The Governor of Maryland has tendered his thanks for the prompt assistance our forces have rendered.

A salute of one hundred guns will be fired from Capitol Hill to-morrow noon in honor of the success of our arms.

OUR HARRISBURG CORRESPONDENCE.

GENERAL M'CLELLAN AND THE RADICALS—THE ORDER FOR THE CONCENTRATION OF THE PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA COUNTERMANDED—THE PHILADELPHIA NATIONAL GUARD—WOUNDED SOLDIERS—RETURN OF TROOPS, ETC.

Harrisburg, Sept. 22, 1862.

The news of McClellan's last great victory has been received here with the greatest rejoicing. Everybody is exulting over it, and even those persons who have heretofore been opposed to General McClellan cannot now praise and admire him enough.

Orders have been telegraphed to the various military headquarters throughout the State to the effect that the militia companies now organizing in the different localities need not march to Harrisburg, as the exigencies which first made it necessary to call the militia have been entirely surmounted, and all danger of invasion passed. The militia throughout the State will, however, maintain their organizations, drill as usual and in all things perfect their knowledge and discipline, awaiting thus for marching orders, and in constant readiness to answer a summons of the Governor.

Pennsylvania has really saved the Union. If it had not been for her marching one hundred thousand men to the border, the enemy might possibly have made an invasion into a free State. But our brave boys left everything, their homes and all that was dear to them, and showed the enemy their spirit and determination.

All the militia in Maryland have been ordered back to Greencastle, and will probably receive orders in a day or two to proceed to their respective homes.

The Philadelphia National Guard arrived here last evening. On their arrival the Colonel, Jeremiah Fritz, addressed them, telling them that their services were not required, and they would proceed to Philadelphia this morning, at nine o'clock. This news the men received with great dissatisfaction, as they were extremely anxious to go on to the seat of war.

A great many wounded arrived in town yesterday, and one thousand more are expected to-day. Great preparations are being made for them. All the schoolhouses and a great many public buildings have been converted into hospitals. Yesterday was devoted entirely to the preparations for the wounded.

Governor Curtin is still at Hagerstown, administering to the wants of the sick and wounded.

The troops in the Cumberland valley have not yet been ordered home; but it is expected here that such an order will soon be issued. The Anderson Guard has been engaged on special service, by order of the Governor, and will return to their homes when the term of that service has been completed.

PARTICULARS OF THE RECENT AFFAIR ACROSS THE POTOMAC.

THE ENEMY ATTACK US BEARING A HOSPITAL FLAG AND DRESSED IN UNION SOLDIERS' UNIFORM.

SHARPSBURG, Md., Sept. 21, 1862.

Between eight and nine o'clock yesterday morning General Martindale's brigade, of Morell's division, Porter's corps, commanded by Colonel Barnes, crossed the Sharpsburg ford, and formed in line of battle near a bluff, about a quarter of a mile from the ford, and directly on the bank of the river. They had scarcely done this before the enemy emerged in overwhelming numbers from a piece of woods, a short distance ahead, and commenced a galling fire of musketry. They then advanced in close column, and the Union troops were ordered not to fire, as it was our own men advancing. This order arose from the fact that the enemy's column was headed by a red hospital flag, and those in the front ranks had on the dress of the Union soldiers. It was supposed to be a party of our men who had previously gone over the river with a flag of truce for the purpose of bringing our wounded soldiers across, who had been made prisoners by the enemy; but, when the rebels continued firing and advancing, it became evident that this was a heartless ruse, invented for the purpose of deceiving our men, and to enable them at the same time to approach near enough to render their fire effective, without receiving that of our men. At last they were recognized, and, though the rebels numbered five to our one, the gallant fellows returned their fire, and would have met the charge bravely (the enemy advancing for that purpose), had not the regiment which composed the right wing of our little force become somewhat panic stricken. Even after their right was exposed, an effort was made to recover it and meet the advancing foe, a regiment being ordered for that purpose, but before this could be accomplished the enemy had turned our right and opened a galling cross fire, doing terrible execution. The order to retreat was now given, and in the greatest disorder and confusion our men started for the river, leaving their dead and wounded behind, and followed by the enemy, who shouted and yelled like demons, firing as they ran. They even followed our men into the river, bayonetting and shooting them, while those on the banks continued firing as long as our men were in sight. All the troops who were on the Virginia side were ordered to return with as much speed as possible, as it was not known what force the enemy might have in the neighborhood. In the meantime several batteries had been placed in position on a commanding hill on the Maryland side, and a short distance to the left of the bluff near which our force was attacked. Shot and shell rained among the enemy; but this did not deter him from following up his victory, for while a man remained in reach of their rifles they continued to fire. Scores of the wounded and dying met a watery grave. A large number of our men were taken prisoners. It is feared that our shells did more harm among our own men than to the enemy, while covering the retreat of our men across the river. Fifteen were under the arch of an old mill. One of our shells burst in the arch, killing and wounding all but one, Edwin Wilkinson, of Company I, One Hundred and Eighteenth Pennsylvania.

There was no artillery to support the brigade. The night previous all had been reported quiet, a regiment having gone over the river and returned without having seen one of the rebels. It was also said that a regiment had been over early in the morning, but returned without having seen the enemy. We were engaged the whole day shelling the woods on the opposite side of the river, and towards night and to-day our forces crossed in large numbers. The enemy, no doubt satisfied with their work, have apparently left the immediate vicinity of the river, as all was reported quiet at eleven o'clock to-night. I should say that Company E, of the One Hundred and Eighteenth Pennsylvania, was sent out as skirmishers just as the enemy appeared as stated above.

THE SURRENDER OF HARPER'S FERRY.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22, 1862.

A correspondent of the American states that at Sharpsburg on Friday General McClellan met the guide who conducted the cavalry from Harper's Ferry and enabled them to escape and capture Longstreet's train. He complimented him for his service, and remarked that if Colonel Miles had held out twenty-four hours longer he would have been able to have captured a large portion of the rebel army.

CONDITION OF GEN. HOOKER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—11 P. M.

General Hooker was visited at his quarters at the Insane Hospital to-day by the President, Senator Hale and several officers of the army. The wound in his left foot is no longer painful, and a speedy recovery is anticipated by the attending surgeons. The ball passed through the bottom of the foot, but none of the bones were injured. The General is in excellent quarters, and receives the kindest attention and treatment from Dr. Nichols, Superintendent of the Hospital. General Hooker chafes somewhat under the reflection that when he was obliged to leave the field he was whipping the enemy, and felt certain of destroying their army. His remark at the time he was hit was, that if they had let him alone until night he would not have cared what might have happened to him afterwards. He says that he had the enemy rolling towards the river, and with Sumner's fresh troops he was confident of annihilating them. It is a mistake to say that he had been repulsed when General Sumner came up. His men were holding their ground, and were full of enthusiasm. When the supports went into the fight Hooker's men cheered them on, feeling that with their continued efforts the rebels would be scattered like chaff. General Hooker and his staff accord to the corps formerly under General McDowell the praise of having behaved splendidly. The Pennsylvania reserves, who have been broken repeatedly in previous battles, on this occasion fought with irresistible valor.

GENERAL CRAWFORD IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 22, 1862.

General Crawford's wound, received while rallying the regiments of Gordon's brigade, is more serious than was anticipated. Pieces of clothing continue to come out of the wound. General Crawford passed through Hagerstown in an ambulance on Sunday.

THE REMAINS OF LIEUTENANT COLONEL DWIGHT.

The remains of Lieutenant Colonel Wilder Dwight, of the Second Massachusetts regiment, were escorted through this city yesterday en route for Boston, where the relatives of the lamented officer reside. Lieutenant Colonel Dwight was mortally wounded in the great battle of Antietam on Wednesday last. During the whole of that day, while his regiment was engaged, he was conspicuous for his gallantry and daring. During one of the splendid advances of the Union lines—the rebels having been thrown into confusion—his regiment captured the rebel colors. Colonel Dwight subsequently rode along the line of his regiment displaying the trophy amid the cheers of his soldiers and a storm of bullets from the enemy. It was near the close of the battle, however, when his regiment was hotly engaged, that he was stricken down by a bullet, and fell mortally wounded on the field. His death will be lamented and his memory cherished by a numerous circle, who found in him a genial companion, a devoted friend, and a brave and honorable soldier. His family has furnished a number of soldiers for the army. He has three brothers in the service—Colonel William Dwight, of the Second Excelsior regiment, who was wounded at Williamsburg; Captain Howard Dwight, of the Missouri cavalry, and Lieutenant Charles Dwight, formerly on Sickles' staff, who has just returned from captivity in Richmond. Few families can show a more patriotic record.

CONDITION OF COLONEL HINKS—DEATH OF SURGEON REVERE.

BOSTON, Sept. 22, 1862.

A letter to the Mayor of Lynn states that Col. Hinks, of the Nineteenth Massachusetts regiment, was badly wounded in the battle of Wednesday. His right arm will have to be amputated.

A despatch received in this city announced the death of Surgeon Revere, of the Massachusetts Twentieth regiment.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22, 1862.

BURNSIDE AND M'CLELLAN.

It is stated, on good authority, that General Burnside was offered the command of the Army of the Potomac, but in declining the honor he asserted the pre-eminent fitness of General McClellan for the position.

THE REBEL WOUNDED.

Quite a number of rebel wounded were conveyed to-day to the Capitol, and accommodated with cots in the Rotunda and the Senate Chamber. They say they were impressed, and will not serve again in the rebel ranks.

GENERAL RICHARDSON'S WOUND PROBABLY MORTAL.

It is supposed that the wound received by General Richardson, through the shoulder and breast, will prove fatal.

GEN. DANA'S WOUND.

The wound of General Dana is below the knee, and as it is from musket ball he will probably be fit for duty in one month.

COLONEL CALVIN E. PRATT NOT WOUNDED.

Colonel Calvin E. Pratt, of the Thirty-first New York regiment, who was reported killed in the battle of Antietam, was unhurt in that battle. He was wounded through the cheek at Gaines' Mills, and had just recovered sufficiently to rejoin his regiment previous to the battle of South Mountain, but has passed the Maryland campaign without injury.

GENERAL FRENCH AND HIS SON.

General W. H. French, and his son William, who were reported wounded, are well, uninjured, and on duty. General French has realized the prediction of his friends when he first brought his battery safely out of Texas at the beginning of the rebellion. His son Frank, whose bravery at Ball's Bluff, where he was wounded, and at Fair Oaks, where he commanded a section of Ricketts' battery, won for him much high commendation. In the battle of Wednesday he commanded the Ricketts-Kirby battery, which did so much execution.

CASUALTIES IN THE THIRTY-EIGHTH MASSACHUSETTS.

The Thirty-eighth Massachusetts regiment was under fire for the first time in the battle of Antietam. The Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, Adjutant, and eight of the ten Captains, were wounded. The Major was absent. Colonel Wild lost an arm at the shoulder joint. He was wounded in the hand in a fight at Fair Oaks a few days previous to the seven days' battles, being then a captain in the Massachusetts First.

Banquet to the Twelfth Regiment.

Yesterday evening the banquet voted unanimously by the Board of Common Councilmen to the Twelfth regiment New York State Militia came off at the St. Nicholas. With the usual liberality of the body, elicited on this occasion by the claims which the gallant regiment they desired to honor had upon them and the citizens at large, whom they particularly represented, everything was done on the part of the Common Council to make this affair as creditable as possible to all concerned. To this end the gentlemen of the hotel largely contributed. Everything was done by them to make the affair the success the originators of it desired. The splendid dining room was beautifully furnished on the occasion. Flags from the walls, and small banners in the appropriate places on the tables betokened that it was a military ovation.

Officers and their friends and Aldermen's and Common Councilmen's friends crowded the more popular rendezvous of the establishment, notifying to all concerned that something was coming off when all the preliminaries were arranged—which appeared to be a long time in the arranging from the farthest door. At length a move from the farthest door was observable, and the crowd began to set in that direction until the bar was nearly emptied of its friends. In a few minutes the portly body of the cerberus who took watch and ward, swayed, and having brought up on one side allowed the guests to enter.

Colonel Ward, Major Anderson and several others, officers of the Twelfth regiment, each accompanied by an Alderman or Councilman, first entered the room, and were quickly followed by others, friends of the regiment and sympathizers with them as brave men, whom adverse circumstances had compelled to pass under the yoke.

Colonel Ward and his officers looked well, and like men, to the presence of their friends, who would much rather be confronting their foes and the enemies of their country. They live in the hope that they will soon be permitted that honor, and the noble Twelfth will prove that this little noise, and the unexpected pleasures of home attendant upon it, but serve the arms of brave men to hearlier and more earnest deeds of patriotism.

The banquet was presided over by Alderman Frear, Colonel Ward being on his right. Aldermen Brady, Mitchell, Boole, Jeremiah and Walsh, with Councilman Loot and others, were present.

Speeches were delivered by the President, Col. Ward and others.

The gallant Colonel of the regiment, in the course of his remarks, delivered a very fine eulogy upon Gen. McClellan. His remarks were greeted with enthusiastic cheers. In the course of his address he read the following letter from Gen. Wool, which speaks for itself with regard to the gallant bearing and services of the regiment:—

HEADQUARTERS MIDDLE DEPARTMENT,
EIGHTH ARMY CORPS,
BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 18, 1862.

COLONEL:—Before you return with your regiment to the old Empire City, where loving hearts have been anxiously awaiting you for three long weeks of suspense, I wish, in bidding you a cordial farewell, to express my high appreciation of the patriotic conduct which the Twelfth regiment, New York State Militia, has shown during this the most perilous time of our beloved country.

Being placed in a position of unusual responsibility and danger, you and your brave men have nobly fulfilled the expectations which your commanding general entertained of you; and I hereby tender my thanks to every officer and soldier in your regiment, but especially to yourself for the promptness with which you responded to my call, and setting aside all thoughts of safety, home and comfort, remained faithful to your post as true American patriots.

I trust that the example shown by the Twelfth regiment will not be lost upon the armies of the Union, but that it will stimulate them to nobler and braver deeds, and then we shall have the best assurance that no rebellion—no matter how extensive or obstinate—can tear asunder that glorious Union under which we have enjoyed untold blessings. Believe me, Colonel, very truly yours,

JOHN E. WOOL, Major General.

Colonel W. G. WARD, Commanding Twelfth regiment New York State Militia.

The letter was received with rapturous applause. The Colonel closed his remarks by saying, on behalf of himself and officers, they were ready at any moment to respond to the call of the country upon their services. (Cheers.)

Major Anderson, of the 12th, responded to the toast of the United States.

The President of the United States was the next toast, which was drank and eloquently responded to.

"The Press" was very eloquently responded to by Mr. Hase. The proceedings then closed, and the party broke up.

City Intelligence.

OBSEQUIES OF CAPTAIN FELIX DUFFY, SIXTY-NINTH NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.—The funeral services over the remains of Captain Felix Duffy, Sixty-ninth regiment New York State Volunteers, took place early yesterday morning at St. Peter's church, in Barclay street. The edifice was crowded to excess with a highly respectable congregation, including a great number of army officers and citizens of note in this city.

General Corcoran and staff, Colonel McEvily, Colonel Murphy and Colonel McDermott were amongst the officers in attendance.

The coffin containing the remains were brought to the church about nine o'clock in the morning, and placed upon chairs in the middle aisle close to the altar. Four large lighted tapers were also stationed at the head of the coffin, which was tastefully wrapped in flags, and decorated otherwise very beautifully. A grand requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Quinn, pastor of the church, assisted by three other clergymen. The Rev. Father Quinn, at the conclusion of the mass, delivered a brief sermon, during which he sketched the life of the deceased, speaking of him as a man who was admired in any station he filled, both as a private citizen and as a soldier. His character was above blemish, and his bravery and courage acknowledged by all his comrades. The particular services for the dead were then read, after which the remains were transferred to the hearse, and the funeral cortege proceeded to Calvary Cemetery, where the deceased was interred with the customary military honors. A detachment of the old Sixty-ninth acted as an escort.

FIRE IN WEST TWENTY-EIGHTH STREET.—At twelve o'clock last night a fire broke out in a blacksmith shop at 106 West Twenty-eighth street, occupied by David Knapp. The flames spread to several stables adjoining, occupied by different persons. The horses were got out without injury. The fire also damaged two frame tenements in the rear. Total loss about $1,200. The buildings are owned by E. Ward, and are said to be insured in the Continental Insurance Company.

United States Circuit Court.

Before Hon. Judge Shipman.

THE LATE CONVICTION FOR MURDER ON THE HIGH SEAS.

SEPT. 22.—The United States vs. Fernando Dimanchie.—The prisoner was convicted at the last term of murder on the high seas, with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court. In this the United States District Attorney agreed.

Mr. Edwin James, who defended the prisoner, moved for an arrest of judgment in consequence of a defect in the indictment.

The District Attorney, E. Delafield Smith, said that that question was argued on a former occasion, and, as prosecuting officer for the government, he conceded that the sentence of death should be commuted to imprisonment for fifteen years.

Mr. James said, that the question before the Court was whether the prisoner had been legally convicted. If he had, the only alternative for the Court was to pass sentence of death according to law.

The Court remarked that a new trial might be granted if the question resulted in favor of the prisoner.

The District Attorney said, in view of that contingency, he would remark that he had two witnesses who had been several months in confinement, and he must keep them until this matter is disposed of.

Mr. James remarked that this was not a case for a new trial, but one of an arrest of judgment.

The Court said that on Wednesday morning the matter would be decided.

In the case, the Market Bank of New York against the Mechanics' Bank of New Haven, Judge Shipman said there was a verdict for the plaintiff subject to the opinion of the Court. The verdict cannot be entered for the plaintiff, as the Court was of opinion that the action could not be maintained.

FOR THE SICK AND WOUNDED.
Under an order from the President of the United States, a national system has been established by the Sanitary Commission for the safe transmission and judicious distribution of articles contributed by the people for the sick and wounded of the army and navy. The system, after being well tried, has been formally approved and recommended by the President, the General-in-Chief and the Surgeon General. The security it offers against misappropriation is practically perfect, until the contributions are delivered in the hospitals, where they necessarily pass from the control of the Commission. Of more than a million articles sent through one of the largest of its channels of supply it has been ascertained that not one hundred have miscarried or been dishonestly used. Discreet and trustworthy agents are constantly employed in visiting all divisions of the army (including those on the Southern coast, the Mississippi and the Western frontier, to observe their wants; to direct supplies where they are most needed, and to secure, as far as practicable, their honest use. The Commission does not undertake to deliver articles to individuals and declines to receive contributions with any restriction as to their destination within the limits of the force employed in the service of the nation, it being one of its secondary objects to strengthen the sentiment of national unity wherever it can come in antagonism with State or local pride.
The distribution of hospital supplies is but a branch of the work of the Commission. It employs the best professional talent which can be obtained in the country to aid its larger purpose—to do all that is possible for the health and vigor of our fighting men, to lighten their burdens, reduce their incumbrances, and to sustain their spirits under the privations and hardships which are an essential part of successful warfare. For this purpose contributions to its treasury are solicited. They may be directed to the Treasurer, G. T. Strong, Esq., 68 Wall street, New York.

CENTRAL OFFICE, SANITARY COMMISSION, }
WASHINGTON, September 20, 1862. }
The Sanitary Commission, at the request of General Halleck, Commanding-in-Chief the armies of the United States, most earnestly advises against the practice of sending presents to soldiers of articles which it is supposed will add to the conveniences of their camp life. To the knowledge of the Commission, many hundred tons of such presents are now piled uselessly in store houses and yards, and upon old camp grounds; while thousands have probably been destroyed to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy, and but a small part of all that have been received by those to whom they were addressed have been of the smallest value to them, except as tokens of the affectionate interest of their friends. For this purpose, letters and such other small and light articles as can be transmitted by mail would have been much better. Larger gifts occasion serious practical mischief—men and officers being naturally averse to throwing them away—they add to the encumbrances, which are a chief cause of the excessive fatigue, and thus of the sickness of the soldier. Volunteers almost universally, until they learn better by dear bought experience, undertake to carry an excessive amount of clothing. To this cause, and to the excessive baggage of their officers, some of the severest losses of the Union forces in the present war are attributed by the highest military authority. But even when successful in battle, the attempt to secure comfort by the possession of an unusual amount of clothing is nearly always frustrated, the heaviest knapsack being thrown away at the first long continued hard march, while the light one is retained, and the long and heavily ladened wagon train being cut off, when the light and short one is protected. Similar observations apply to regimental hospitals. The hospital of a regiment in the field should be supplied with nothing but the barest necessities for the temporary treatment of the sick, who, in all serious cases, are removed as fast as possible to general hospitals, where the supplies of the regiment are not available. An excessive amount of regimental hospital stores and conveniences is a cruelty to the sick and wounded, for it occasions the frequent detention and separation from the regiment of the few articles essential to the usefulness of the surgeon. The Commission has from the first protested against a common error of surgeons in this respect, as well as against the greater evil of the common attempt of the volunteer soldiers to carry into the field too many of the means of comfort to which they are habituated in civil life. In compliance with the request of General Halleck, this appeal is addressed to those, by whose mistaken kindness both these evils are believed to have been greatly aggravated, and sustained.
FRED. LAW OLMSTED, General Secretary.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR CAPITALISTS OR PERsons desiring Country Residences.
The subscriber offers for sale his Country Residence, recently surveyed and laid out so that it can be divided into three distinct parcels, each having a water front and most splendid building sites. The property consists of 300 acres, a fine, stylish old mansion in a lawn of fourteen acres of lofty shade trees, native and imported, innumerable and of great variety; a garden tastefully designed and stocked with fruits and flowers; outbuildings, including farm house, yachtman's cottage, "fronting on a fine harbor," and a bowling alley. The situation has unequalled advantages for either a private residence or for speculation; having a bold shore on the Sound a mile in extent, two sides belted by creek and inlet, one side by the main road, the lands tracing the rivers gently slope either way, so that every building site commands fine views of the Sound and surrounding country. Two-thirds of the sites can have water fronts. The place is perfectly healthy, water excellent and air invigorating. Distance from the city 18 miles by New Haven Railroad; business men can reach the city from this place in less time than from Harlem by the avenue cars. Persons desirous of avoiding city taxes, the dangers and detentions in crossing the rivers, will do well to give this advertisement their early attention. No estate of equal size within one hundred miles of New York combines the diversified advantages and regal elegance of this old residence in every particular and all its appointments. The present distance to railroad stations two miles. When "Chatsworth" is made a station, now in contemplation (depot already built), the distance will be only half a mile. Apply on the premises, to
E. K. COLLINS,
or to him at the office of Woodruff & Co., 40 Broad street, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, between 12 and 2 o'clock, where a map can be seen.

The club then adjourned until Saturday evening, Sept. 27, at 8 o'clock precisely. Members will please be punctual, as business of the greatest importance will be brought forward.
JAS. H. MONROE, President.
GEORGE ADAMS, Secretary.

5TH WARD.—AT A MEETING OF THE FIFTH WARD Democratic Association, held at 19 Lispenard street on Monday evening, Sept. 22, 1862, it was, upon motion of Benjamin Colland, resolved that the association organize themselves into a Seymour Club, for the purpose of aiding in the election of the Democratic State ticket, whereupon the Hon. C. B. Woodruff offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:—
Resolved, That we hail with delight the nomination of the Hon. Horatio Seymour for Governor, knowing that his past acts have been such as to entitle him to the highest rank among the statesmen of our country, and that they are a sure guarantee that his future course as Governor (to which position the patriotism and conservatism of our citizens will most surely place him), will entitle him to a high rank among our noblest patriots.
Resolved, That in all the balance of the democratic ticket we recognize true and loyal men, and that we will give them our hearty and cordial support.
Resolved, That the platform and principles laid down by the State Convention meet with our honest approval, and that upon it we will subdue and conquer the heresies of abolitionism and again plant the banner of democracy on a sure and firm foundation.

"PAGE'S VENUS,"
So severely criticised by the press, and acknowledged to be the purest and most perfect nude figure ever painted since the days of the great Titian. Read what the Herald says of it.
[From the New York Herald.]
The rush of virtuosos at the Arcadian retreat has never been so great. The attraction was, of course, the painting now on exhibition—Page's Venus—already described in the Herald. It is remarkable that an unusual number of ladies were present yesterday. They were there, and they seemed to delight in the classic vicinity of the beautiful production, and were not over anxious to move to any other part of the building. Such glances were cast upon Venus. A great many persons, of course, pretended that they did not care a stiver for the great piece; but, after hurriedly inspecting every other painting in the room, their footsteps would slowly approach the beautiful Venus. The ladies never staid so long in this gallery as they did yesterday. Up to four o'clock yesterday there was a rush of visitors. After that hour they began to flow in like the tides of the sea. Venus is, beyond doubt, the great attraction of the day.
Galleries open day and evening. Admission 25 cents.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Nova Scotian Off Cape Race and Etna at New York.

War News from America Anxiously Expected.

Italy Excited Concerning Garibaldi.

SPAIN DRAWS CLOSER TO FRANCE.

COTTON AGAIN DECLINED,

&c., &c., &c.

The screw steamship Etna, Captain Mierhouse, which sailed from Liverpool at noon on the 10th, and from Queenstown on the evening of the 11th inst., arrived at this port about eight o'clock yesterday evening.

Her news has been fully anticipated by the reports of the Borussia and Nova Scotian, off Cape Race.

The articles of the English journals, received by the Etna, are wanting in vigor and point, so far as they have reference to American affairs.

The steamship Nova Scotian, from Liverpool on the 11th, via Londonderry on the 12th instant, arrived off Cape Race at five o'clock on Sunday evening. She was boarded by the news yacht of the press and a summary of her news obtained.

The dates per the Nova Scotian are two days later than those received by the Borussia.

The news by the Nova Scotian, to the 11th instant, is not of any great interest; and a despatch from London of the 12th instant—the very latest—says:—There is no news of interest from any quarter to-day.

The steamship Glasgow, from New York, arrived at Queenstown on the 12th instant.

The American War.

In the absence of later advices the English papers continued to speculate on the position of affairs in America at the time of the departure of the Anglo-Saxon. It was generally argued that matters, as then represented, showed a drawn battle between the Union and rebel armies, and that a decisive action had yet to come.

Later intelligence was most anxiously looked for.

Great Britain.

Smallpox among the sheep in Wiltshire was making further progress. An official order from the councils prohibits the removal of any sheep or lambs from the infected districts, and makes other provisions to check the disease.

It is stated that the great reductions which have commenced in the Woolwich Arsenal will amount to six thousand persons.

The iron-cased frigate Royal Oak, carrying thirty-four guns, had been launched at Chatham.

France.

The Prince Jerome, with French troops on board, had been destroyed by fire off Gibraltar. No lives were lost.

Italy.

The statements in regard to Garibaldi's health continue to be conflicting.

A Turin despatch of the 10th inst. says that the health of Garibaldi has improved; but other accounts say that his wounds are of a serious character.

General Dixio writes from Genoa in regard to the statement that Garibaldi has been taken to an apartment specially prepared for him at Varignano. He shows that no proper preparations were made for the sufferer, and he denounces the Italian Ministers therefor. He says that Rattazzi may aspire to secure for himself the renown of being the defender of order and of repression, but he can have no claim to a reputation for humanity, and it would be better for him to confine his official news to facts.

This communication caused some excitement in Italy.

A late Turin despatch says that it was considered possible that an amnesty would be proclaimed to all political prisoners.

Spain.

The correspondence of the Autografo denies the assertions that the Spanish government is about to assume a more conciliatory policy towards France in order to constitute a durable government in Mexico.

Commercial Intelligence.

BOSTON, Sept. 22, 1862.

A call, signed by some seventeen hundred of the first citizens of this State, for a People's Convention, to be holden in Faneuil Hall, October 7, for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers, was issued to-day. Among the signers of this call are a number of the prominent members of all the old party organizations.

Another Secession Flag Presented to the City.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, Sept. 8, 1862.

TO THE HONORABLE THE COMMON COUNCIL:—

GENTLEMEN—I have this day received the herewith transmitted secession flag, with the letters which accompanied it.

This flag is presented to your honorable body by Col. Wilson, of the Sixth regiment New York Volunteers, who states that Florida seceded under it, and that it was the first secession flag waved in that State.

Your honorable body will, no doubt, make appropriate acknowledgment and disposition of the interesting trophy.

GEORGE OPDYKE, Mayor.

The Secretary of War Providing for Contrabands.

The following correspondence explains itself:—

CAIRO, Sept. 18, 1862.

To Hon. E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War, Washington:—

General Grant is sending here a large lot of negro women and children, and directs me to ask you what to do with them. Parties in Chicago and other cities wish them for servants. Will I be allowed to turn them over to responsible committees to be so employed? If so, can I transport them at government expense?

J. M. TUTTLE,
Brigadier General, Commanding District of Cairo.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—6 P. M.

To Brigadier General TUTTLE, Commanding:—

You are authorized to turn over to responsible committees negro women and children, who will take them in charge and provide them with employment and support in the Northern States, and you may furnish transportation at government expense.

EDWIN M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

The Golden Charity of California.

SAN FRANCISCO CONTRIBUTES ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS TO THE SANITARY COMMISSION.

The United States Sanitary Commission received the following despatch yesterday morning from San Francisco, announcing that that city has donated one hundred thousand dollars for the relief of our sick and wounded soldiers and seamen:—

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20, 1862.

To H. W. BELLOWS, President, and GEORGE T. STRONG, Treasurer, United States Sanitary Commission:—

We have this day forwarded to you, per steamer, drafts on Eugene Kelly & Co., New York, for one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), contributed by citizens of San Francisco for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers and seamen of the federal army and navy.

The committee wish, if there are branches of the Commission in St. Louis and Cincinnati, independent in their organization as regards money, that a portion of this sum should go to them.

Arrangements have been made with Eugene Kelly & Co. to pay you at once, if necessary. See them and inform us by telegraph.

S. H. F. TESCHEMACHER,
Chairman Central Relief Committee.

JAMES OTIS, Treasurer.

DR. BELLOWS' REPLY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22, 1862.

To S. H. F. TESCHEMACHER, Chairman Central Relief Committee, San Francisco:—

Your magnificent contribution will electrify the country. Thanks to God and to San Francisco for such unparalleled generosity. We shall make equitable distribution of your bounty. It will be staunching wounds and cooling fevered lips before this reaches you. On the strength of it I telegraph our agents constantly to spare nothing on the battle fields of Maryland and Virginia, where we are disbursing hospital stores at the rate of five army wagon loads per day.

Your example will reanimate all our cities and towns. We shall lack nothing from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, when their already noble example is outstripped at a bound by the youngest great city in the nation—furthest from the seat of war and already nearest to the sick and wounded on her battle fields.

H. W. BELLOWS,
President of Sanitary Commission.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, Sept. 22—6 P. M.

To-day's bank statement compares as follows with that of last Monday:—

Week end'g.	Loans.	Specie.	Circulation.	Deposits.
Sept. 13	$157,528,513	37,123,245	9,719,126	144,991,062
Sept. 20	158,239,288	37,863,037	9,789,060	148,630,453
Increase	$470,775	737,792	69,934	3,639,391

The net deposits are really in excess of $150,000,000 at the present time; they cannot help increasing steadily so long as the war lasts, unless panics lead to the withdrawal of money. The banks appear to gain specie at the rate of about two millions a month. When the safe time comes for them to resume specie payments, they will do it with perhaps more gold in their vaults than they ever had. By far the greater portion of the specie hoarded with them at present will never be sold, and will merely be kept on special deposit until the premium on gold becomes nominal again. This advantage which our banks enjoy was not enjoyed by the Bank of England during the long suspension occasioned by the Napoleonic wars. In that case the specie had passed out of the vaults of the bank, was in private hands in all parts of the country, and could not be got out of them. Hence, in great part, the difficulty of resuming specie payments in that case.

Money is abundant at 4 per cent, and some loans are made at 3 a 3½. Mercantile paper, which continues quite scarce, sells at 4 a 5 per cent for the best names, and 6 a 7 for names less generally known. Certificates of indebtedness rule about 99. The upward movement in demand notes continues, and they sold to-day at 114¾, within 3 per cent of the price of gold. It is estimated that the receipts from customs will not absorb them before February or March next, and meanwhile substantial successes may cause gold to decline.

Exchange is quoted firm, but inactive, at 129 a ¼ for bankers' sterling. One or two houses ask 129½; but we hear of no sales above ¼, and very few at that price. There is little or no inquiry for bills. Gold opened this morning at 117⅝, rose to 117¾, sold in the afternoon at 117⅜, and closed that bid. Rumor states that when the rebels entered Maryland large amounts of gold were bought by foreign houses in view of the probable fall of Washington, and at least temporary collapse of the United States government. Any such hoards would be likely to come on the market in the event of a hopeful pursuit of the rebels through Virginia.

The stock market opened firmly this morning, became rampant between the boards, was not so high at the second board, and closed irregular. The advance in the leading speculative securities within the past ten days has been unusually extensive and rapid, so much so that most of the leading operators have been and are looking out for a reaction. Erie preferred has risen, in ten days, nine per cent, Erie old 6¾, New York Central 3, Hudson 3½, Harlem preferred 5, Michigan Central 5, guaranteed 8½, Illinois Central 6½, Toledo 7, Rock Island 5 per cent. Whether this large and sudden advance will hold without a reaction remains to be seen. This morning there was no sign of anything of the kind, but in the afternoon there were some heavy sales. Government securities, which might be expected to be the first to feel the effect of the expulsion of the rebels from Maryland, were only steady to-day at Saturday's prices. There was an advance in Chicago and Northwesterns of 1 per cent in the assented bonds, and ½ in the second mortgages; otherwise the bond market showed no special improvement. The most active shares on the list were the two Eries, Central, the Michigan shares, Toledo, Rock Island, and Galena, all of which advanced. Comparing the prices current this afternoon with those of Saturday afternoon, we note an advance of 2⅛ per cent in guaranteed, 1¾ in Southern old, 1¾ in Illinois Central, 1½ in Galena, 2 in Toledo, and ⅝ in Erie old. The following were the closing prices of the day:—

CITY COMMERCIAL REPORT.

MONDAY, Sept. 22—6 P. M.

ASHES.—We have no change to notice in prices, while sales were limited and confined to small lots of pots at $6 87½, and of pearls at $7 37½.

BREADSTUFFS.—Flour—The market was steady for the common and medium grades of State and Western, while good to prime extra grades were quite firm. The sales footed up 16,000 bbls., closing within the range of the following quotations:—

Superfine State	$5 10	a	5 25
Extra State	5 35	a	5 60
Superfine Western	5 10	a	5 25
Common to choice extra Western	5 55	a	6 75
Canadian	5 50	a	6 75
Southern mixed to good superfine	5 65	a	6 10
Extra do	6 15	a	7 25
Good to choice family do	7 25	a	7 50
Rye flour	3 10	a	4 50
Corn meal, Jersey and Brandywine	3 45	a	3 75

—Canadian flour was quiet and sales were limited, while prices were firm. The transactions were confined to 400 a 500 bbls. at our quotations. Southern flour was firm for the higher grades, while the sales embraced about 500 bbls. at the above prices. Rye flour was firm and in good demand, with sales of 160 bbls. at the above figures. Corn meal was steady at quotations, while the sales embraced some 100 bbls. Wheat—The market opened with less buoyancy and closed at a decline of 1c. per bushel. The market was tolerably active at the concession. The sales footed up about 150,000 bushels at $1 37½ for fair white Michigan, $1 26 a $1 27½ for good to prime red Western, $1 06 a $1 16 for Chicago spring, $1 11 a $1 18½ for Milwaukee club, $1 19 a $1 21½ for amber Iowa, and $1 26½ a $1 28 for amber Western. Corn was steady and firmer for prime lots of sound Western mixed for shipment. The sales embraced about 70,000 bushels at 43c. a 54c. for hot and warm, 55c. a 58½c. for Eastern mixed, and 59c. a 61c. for sound good to choice Western mixed. Rye was scarce and firm, and prices unchanged. Barley was quiet and nominal. Barley malt was firm and scarce at $1 a $1 10. Oats were in good demand and prices firm. Sales of 20,000 bushels were made, consisting of prime State and Western, at 61c.

COFFEE.—The market was firm but quiet, while sales were limited.

COTTON was in fair demand, while the sales footed up about 600 bales at 53c. a 54c. for middling uplands, chiefly at the outside figure. The news by the Nova Scotian came to hand too late in the afternoon for its effect, if any, to be developed. The market, however, with the light stock on hand, is more influenced by local circumstances than by those fully sympathizing with movements in Liverpool.

FREIGHTS were firmer. To Liverpool about 50,000 bushels of wheat were engaged in bulk and in bags at 12d. a 12½d., 500 bbls. flour at 3s. 6d., and 300 tierces lard at 37s. 6d. To London about 20,000 bushels of wheat were engaged at 13d. a 13½d. in ship's bags. To Glasgow 25,000 bushels of wheat at 14d. a 14½d. in bulk and in ship's bags. A vessel was taken up to load, with wheat for Glasgow at 14d., and another for Ayre at the same figure, and another for Bristol at 13d. a 13½d.

HAY also was in fair demand, with sales of good for shipment at 70c., and for city use at 75c.; new was plenty and prices unchanged.

MOLASSES.—Sales of 250 hhds. Cubas were made at 30c.

NAVAL STORES.—Prices were unchanged, and holders were firm at Saturday's quotations.

PROVISIONS.—Pork—The market was heavy and less active. The sales footed up about 700 a 800 bbls. at $11 62½ a $11 75 for mess, and at $10 a $10 12½ for prime. Beef was dull, while prices were without change of moment. The sales embraced about 160 bbls. at $13 a $13 25 for plain mess, and at $14 a $14 25 for extra. Cut meats were steady, while sales embraced 60 packages at 4½c. for shoulders; hams were firm but quiet. Lard was steady, with sales of 700 packages at 9c. a 9½c. Butter was less active, while prices were unchanged, though less buoyant. We quote State at 18c. a 20c., and State cheese dull at 8½c. a 9½c., the latter figure nominal. Ohio butter was at 13c. a 16c., and cheese 7½c. a 8½c.

RICE was firmly held, while sales of all descriptions were limited.

SUGARS.—The market was steady, with a good demand, especially from the refining trade. The sales embraced about 2,000 hhds., a considerable portion of which consisted of Cuba, fair to good refining goods at 8⅝ a 8⅞c., and New Orleans at 8⅞ a 9½c. for brown, and at 10 a 11c. for clarified; 300 boxes Havana at 8⅞ a 9½c., and 700 do. do. at p. t.; and 5,162 bags of Manila at 8½c.

WHISKEY.—The market was steady, with sales of 450 bbls. State and Western at 32½c.

GREAT AND UNEQUALLED SUCCESS OF CARLOTTA PATTI.
THE MOST SUCCESSFUL DEBUT
OF MODERN TIMES.
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24,
HER SECOND APPEARANCE
IN SONNAMBULA,

Supported by
SIG. SBRIGLIA,
SIG. SUSINI,
AND THE TALENTED COMPANY.

Mr. Nixon desires to call attention to the fact that the season, which he inaugurates for the appearance of Miss Patti in opera, must necessarily be brief.

ONLY THREE MORE REPRESENTATIONS CAN BE GIVEN,

as positive engagements elsewhere will prevent any reappearance after the present week. It should be understood that this announcement is definite and will be strictly adhered to. The days selected are,

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24,
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26,
AND
SATURDAY, (GRAND MATINEE) SEPTEMBER 27.

Mr. Nixon feels confident that the motive which has impelled him to introduce this most accomplished of American vocalists to a career from which she has hitherto been restrained, will be appreciated by the musical public of New York. It is but a short time since Miss Adelina Patti, the sister of the present debutante, won her first artistic laurels upon the same stage, and in the same character, in which Miss Carlotta Patti now addresses herself. The hitherto unprecedented triumphs of the one, whose name is now associated with the highest lyric fame in both continents, have inspired the friends and admirers of the other to urge her to undertake a similar career. Mr. Nixon has not been unmindful either of the qualifications of Miss Patti, nor of the difficulties that lay in the way of fulfilling the universal wish. These latter, he is happy to declare, are now thoroughly removed, so that the former may display themselves unimpaired. For the technical instruction of Miss Patti in the business of the lyric stage the experienced services of Mr. C. Scola have been engaged.

The co-operation of Mr. Muzio, the eminent conductor of Italian Opera, has not been wanting. The public may therefore look forward to the free and untrammelled exercise of those powers which have proved the delight and fascination of our Concert halls, in a higher and more fitting sphere; and may welcome the vocal talent and endowments which are united in Miss Patti to a degree seldom rivalled, and which has never been equalled in this country, to a vocation to which they may bring new lustre and renown.

Between the Second and Third acts the Orchestra will play the

GREAT UPRISING GALLOP,
by
SIG. MUZIO.
